Russians Lash Out At U. S.

Charge Mad Arms Race

BULLETIN

PARIS — (AP) — The United Nations assembly approved today a western-supported plan looking toward reduced world armaments. In so doing it ignored Russian protests that the United States and Britain are in a "mad armaments race" aimed against the Soviet union.

★

PARIS — (INS) — Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky charged today that the western powers are plotting war against Russia and Soviet satellites of eastern Europe.

Vishinsky placed principal responsibility for the "plotting" of war on the United States and Britain.

The Moscow spokesman loosed a vitriolic new tirade against the west in the United Nations after an American spokesman said Russia's demand for a slash in world armaments was "cruel deception" to perpetuate Russia's military advantages.

He reiterated the now familiar charges that American and Britain are responsible for the current "mad armaments race."

Vishinsky declared:

"Reactionary circles in the (Washington) Pentagon and the (British) War ministry are unceasingly plotting war upon the Soviet union and the popular democracies of eastern Europe.

Vishinsky repeated the Soviet notion that disarmament cannot be considered separately from prohibition of the atom bomb, saying:

BITTER EXCHANGE

"Without prohibition of atomic weapons no positive results of disarmament can be achieved. The two problems must be considered as an entity and solved simultaneously."

Bitter exchanges took place in the U. N. General assembly during disarmament debate, with United States Delegate John Foster Dulles assailing the Soviet demand for a one-third cut in armaments of major powers.

The heat of the arguments centered around Russia's persistent demand for acceptance of its armaments slashing resolution previously defeated in the political committee and a western-backed Belgian proposal for arms inspection to which the Soviets object.

Dulles spearheaded the west's attack on the Russian proposal terming it a "cruel deception to make people believe peace can be promoted in slap-dash ways."

He declared also that the Soviet plan oversimplifies the disarmament problem "to the extent that it is almost irresponsible."

Dulles declared that the number of men under arms in the United States now is actually only 12 per cent or less than the total America had during the war.

He estimated that Britain's total is something around 15 per cent of wartime strength while Russia has from 35 to 55 per cent of the Soviet war strength.

Horse Meat Sales Hit

HARRISBURG, PA., — (AP) — Pennsylvania began cracking down today on what officials termed a "dead animal meat racket."

Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary, said a five-month inquiry will result in 29 persons being arraigned starting today on charges of violating the state human food and animal feed laws.

Among the violations the state will try to establish, Horst said, are: Sale of horse meat to small restaurants as hamburger, sold with the advice that the cook should "add a little grease and you can't tell the difference from beef."

Patties of meat, suspected of being from dead horses, put out for sale in Philadelphia stores and marked pet food; and dog food made of horse meat labeled as "wholesome for human consumption" and "U. S. Inspected."

Eighth Hunting Death

JACKSON, — (AP) — Lowell Smittle, 16, was killed when a shotgun discharged in a hunting accident yesterday. He was Ohio's eighth hunting fatality.

Foster Homes, Not Children's Home, Trained Executive Asked By Council

Adoption of a "family life" program which would insure care of the county's dependent children in foster homes rather than in an institution, was urged today in recommendations to the county commissioners by the Richland County Child Welfare council.

"If the Child Welfare board will adopt the concept of family life, they will so reduce the population of the Children's home in the next five years that the remaining few children needing institutional care could be cared for more economically and efficiently elsewhere," said the report which was adopted by the citizens' group last night at a meeting in John Simpson junior high school.

To implement such a program the council strongly recommended that the welfare board employ a trained, capable, and responsible full-time executive secretary.

The council's report says that the executive secretary should be given specific instructions to carry out a program based on a survey made by state welfare workers, and urges that such a person be employed by Jan. 1.

The committee did not make recommendations for other employes. It said the executive secretary should be permitted to employ a staff qualified by training and experience.

Greater work of a preventive nature should be carried on in homes when problems first appear to keep families from breaking up, the report said. At the same time, it recommends follow-up service by case workers for children returned to their homes after institutional or foster home care.

The executive secretary, this report says, should devote much of his time to arousing the interest and participation of the public in a foster home and boarding home program.

Pointing out that the state survey said preschool children do not properly belong in an institution, but should be placed in family homes, this report calls for the finding of proper homes in the county for this purpose.

Legislator Sees Berlin Showdown

Shafer Demands More Troops

BERLIN —(U.P.)— An American congressman demanded today that the United States send more troops and planes to Europe for what he called an inevitable showdown with Russia.

Rep. Paul Shafer (R-Mich.) a member of the House Armed Services committee, urged measures to meet "communist aggression" as the Russians were announcing widespread air maneuvers over the entire Soviet zone of Germany.

"Sometime, somewhere, Russia is going to force a showdown and it might be here in Berlin," Shafer said in an interview. "We should have more forces in Europe to meet this 'communist aggression'."

While American forces in Germany are too small, Shafer said, they are better equipped than most people realize.

The Russians informed the four-power Berlin air safety center that Soviet planes will be taking off from all airfields in their occupation zone for air maneuvers.

The announcement was the first of its kind made by the Soviets at the air safety center since they warned that their air patrols would force down any Berlin airlift planes straying outside the prescribed corridors.

American air officials said the Russian flights were "normal" and were not necessarily designed to hinder the Anglo-American airlift.

Hair Blazing, Actress Sings 'Torch Song'

NEW YORK, — (UP) — Musical comedy star Dorothy Sarnoff said today she couldn't see anything so unusual about going on with the show, even while her hair was on fire.

Miss Sarnoff, was kneeling, singing a prayerful song entitled "Lost" during the second act of the musical Magdalena last night when a flood-light directly over the stage exploded, showering bits of hot glass and pieces of red-hot filament on her head.

"My god, her hair's on fire," a woman in the audience screamed. Hearing the stir from the crowd, the leading man, John Railt, rushed across the stage and beat out the fire with his hands, while the actress continued her song.

Ired, Belgian Cabinet Quits

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM — (AP) — Premier Paul-Spaak's Socialist-Catholic coalition cabinet resigned today.

The resignation followed that of Minister of Justice Paul Struye yesterday after a parliamentary debate on his policy of clemency toward former German collaborators.

It is believed Spaak, a Socialist, would refuse to head a new government and that Finance Minister Gaston Eyskens, a leader of the Catholic party, might be named premier. Prince Charles, regent of Belgium, will consult with the various political leaders before asking one to form a government.

Bread Price Case Settled

Parties Decline To Reveal Details

A $25,000 suit brought by Carl Sternbaum, of the Sternbaum food market, against three large baking companies was dismissed yesterday afternoon in common pleas court.

The defendants paid the court costs, Marshall C. Moore, the plaintiff's attorney said. A "substantial settlement" was made. However, Sternbaum said today he could not disclose the amount until he had discussed the matter with his family.

Sternbaum filed the action last Feb. 12 against three baking companies, contending they had combined in a move to force him to discontinue selling bread at 17 cents a loaf, one cent less than the prevailing price.

The defendant companies were the Continental Baking company, 316 North Mulberry street; Alfred Nickles Baking Inc., 194 Park avenue east, and Ward Baking company, Paradise View, O.

His petition charged the companies had acted in restraint of trade in violation of the Ohio Valentine act. The petitioner added he lost business as a result because regular customers stopped trading with him. He estimated damages at $12,500, and asked two-fold damages, as entitled to under the law, or $25,000.

Hang 15 More War Criminals

LANDSBERG, GERMANY, — (INS) — Fifteen more Germans died by hanging today for their war-time crimes.

Eleven of those executed at Landsberg prison were convicted of concentration camp atrocities. Four others were condemned for shooting American fliers forced to land by parachute in Germany.

Team Leaves For 'Big Date'

Fans Give Tygers Noisy Send-Off

By FRED THARP, N-J Sports Editor

With the cheers of Mansfield football fans ringing in their ears, the Mansfield Senior high school grid squad left this morning for its "big date" with the undefeated forces of Martins Ferry.

An impromptu pep rally of students and adults at the city limits sent the twice-beaten Tygers on their way at 9.30 a. m. The rally followed a caravan of about 100 automobiles which paraded the special Bengal bus from Arlin field through downtown Mansfield.

A police and firemen escort led the caravan down Park avenue west to Bowman, down Bowman to West Fourth, West Fourth to North Main, around Central park and out U. S. Route 30. The procession stopped at the city limits for the pep session.

Today's pep demonstrations started at Senior high school this morning with a "yell" assembly and then the students formed a gantlet from the auditorium to the bus in the rear of the school.

In these rallies, as well as others throughout the week, the slogan LSMFT was the most prominent chant. LSMFT means, of course, Let's Smash Martins Ferry, Too!

The Tyger football players were in fine mental condition yesterday. They worked only an hour on football with a good bit of horseplay both on the field and in the dressing room. The underclassmen toted the 13 seniors the whole length of the practice gridiron and then the players tossed the managers in the showers.

SET UP CHANT

Cheerleaders and students drove around the field during the practice chanting "Mansfield, Beat Martins Ferry."

Approximately 200 telegrams from Mansfield supporters are being sent to the team in Martins Ferry and these will be delivered in the dressing room just before game time. Special arrangements have been made with Western Union to expedite any other "pep" wires Manslielders wish to send. These must be sent by 7 p. m. in order to get into the big "telegram shower."

The crack Marching Tygers will accompany the team for its final outdoor football appearance. However, the musicians will participate in another big grid show this year. They'll be one of the many features at Monday's final Tyger club meeting at the high school.

The meeting will feature a medley of tunes from all seven of the half-time shows presented this year at Arlin field. Several production numbers are being prepared, many under the black-lighting equipment.

Reformed Escaper Returned to Jail

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. — (UP) —An escaped convict, who had been a model citizen for three years and recently married a woman who knew nothing of his past, was held today for extradition to Kentucky to serve out a life sentence. "I wish I could drop dead right now," said Samuel Wilson Montgomery, 43, when he was brought here from Rochester where he was arrested last night. "I hate to think what this will mean to my wife."

Finds Funnies Feed Lust For Mediocrity

Critic Brown Frowns on Comics

By VIRGIL A. STANFIELD

A witty fellow with a rapid-fire delivery talked entertainingly of many things last night in McDowell auditorium at Ashland.

John Mason Brown, noted critic, lecturer, and author, skipped glibly from world affairs, to books, to the drama and managed to merge them into a connected story.

Brown even had something to say about comics. A question which must have come from a Mansfielder in the half-filled hall brought this ready reply:

"I loathe comics. They feed our lust for the mediocre. The artists tell stories so ineptly in words that they have to use pictures."

Then, softening a little, he added: "But some comics are better than others and some are more human and almost good. I suppose every generation is entitled to a certain amount of trash."

The American public is getting away from serious reading and thinking, he said.

"Why, if you dare mention at a dinner party that you've been reading Dryden or Vergil, they'll think you haven't been housebroken and won't invite you back."

"The mind is the most unused muscle in the United States, and minds are as uncommon among women as among men," he quipped. "We have a great resistance to maturity despite the experiences of two World wars."

He said Henry Wallace "is the only man who can talk about the world today without talking about Russia.

U. N. Order Carried Out By Israeli

Troops Leave Negev Desert

PARIS — (AP) — Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting Palestine mediator, said today he regarded Israel's reply to the U. N. order to withdraw from the Negev as indicating a willingness to comply with his order.

The Israel reply, which was made public in Tel Aviv last night, was received at U. N. headquarters today.

The reply pointed out the Nov. 4 security council order on the Negev desert area asked withdrawal only of troops which had advanced after Oct. 14.

The Israelis said they had been maintaining troops, both mobile forces and Jewish settlement guards, in the Negev since May 15. They said forces which entered the region After Oct. 14 had been withdrawn.

The Jews offered to consult with the truce mission's chief of staff on withdrawal of Israeli troops from parts of the coastal area northwest of the Negev as requested by the mediator.

Israel said it reserved the right to make representations on the mediator's request to establish demilitarized zones which would, in effect, put much of the Negev under U. N. control.

The reply also noted that the movement of Jewish troops from the historic Arab city of Bersheba would lay the town open to attack by irregulars and open the way to attacks on Jerusalem from the south.

Bunche said he found the Israeli reply "gratifying." He said it indicated a willingness on the part of Israel to accept in principle the security council's resolution.

Israel appointed two officers to meet with the truce commission chief of staff, Brig. Gen. William E Riley, to discuss implementation of the mediator's order. Egypt already had named a representative to discuss the situation with Riley.

Again Seek Strike End

NEW YORK — (INS) — Federal mediators are slated to meet with union and management groups today in an effort to bring to an end the paralyzing east coast longshoremen's strike.

Mediator William N. Margolis said negotiations will virtually begin from scratch and indicated an early peace settlement looked dim. He said negotiations are expected to continue into next week.

Meanwhile, perishables rotted at piers, strike-bound shipping mounted, and thousands of workers in allied industries were being laid off.

Christmas mail for overseas faced long delays. Airlines entered the picture to some extent. The government received an offer from American Overseas airlines to carry 20 tons of first-class mail to Europe over a seven-day period, without additional cost.

Navy Unveils New Jet Fighter Plane

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The navy thinks it has the fastest fighter in the world. Its XF7U-1 "Cutlass' may be the first combat play to fly faster than sound. Secrecy wraps were pulled aside yesterday on the odd, tailless interceptor-shaped like an arrow-head—with swept-back wings and twin jet engines.

Big Storm To Miss City Area

Wintry blasts whipped over much of the western half of the nation today, but the weatherman said Ohio probably will escape with some cold rain and strong winds.

Forecaster C. G Andrus at Cleveland said the 1,500-mile-wide storm is expected to pass north of Ohio and blow itself out in Canada.

Most of Ohio will have southwest winds ranging from 25 to 40 miles an hour, some pelting showers, and temperatures up to 55 degrees today, Andrus said. Tonight's low will be about 34. Tomorrow will be cloudy and colder, he said.

The five-day forecast said temperatures during the period will average about normal. It will be colder Saturday and warmer Sunday and Monday. There will be a change to colder again Tuesday. Rain is expected to end early Saturday, but more is in prospect Monday or Tuesday.

SNOW PILES UP

A storm, accompanied by gale-like winds, left a covering of snow from southwestern Minnesota down through southeastern South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas to the Oklahoma panhandle.

Highway travel was hazardous in many sections. But schedules were disrupted and communications lines were down. Some schools were closed.

The storm center swung in from eastern Colorado Wednesday night, lingered over Kansas yesterday and was moving slowly northeastward today.

Western Kansas was hard hit by freezing temperatures. Three to six inches of snow and winds up to 70 miles an hour were reported.

The Kansas City weather bureau said snow was drifting badly as the northerly winds brought the colder weather.

A low of 13 degrees below zero was reported at West Yellowstone, Mont.

Snow squalls which had marooned 20 hunters in Idaho ended yesterday, making possible their rescue by airplane.

A tornado moved in behind a violent electrical storm at Calhoun City, Miss., last night and injured at least 19 persons. The twister struck about 7 p. m. in the northern outskirts of town. At least a dozen houses were flattened.

Bond Issue Defeated

Recount Fails To Bring Victory

The $17,000 bond issue proposal for a Washington township garage was defeated by a greater margin than the official count showed, a recount made by the county board of elections last night disclosed.

The recount showed the vote for the issue was 377 while the vote against it totaled 210 That's a majority of 63.98 per cent whereas a 65 per cent majority is required to pass a bond issue.

The official count had been 387 for and 209 against, or 64 93 per cent.

The issue actually lost in precinct B where the vote was 377 to 210, or 58.41 per cent. Precinct A gave substantial approval, with a vote of 200 to 84, or 70.42 per cent.

Charles Innes, chairman of the county board of elections, said most of the ballots that were thrown out were invalidated because persons had not placed the 'X' in the square. Those defaced ballots had the 'X's' marked on the right of the question.

Innes said board members turned back the $20 deposited by a citizens' committee of Washington township for the recount inas much as the recount did not require a special meeting and the group was composed of "civic-minded citizens." Recounts cost $10 per precinct.

Strengthen Troops

PARIS, — (INS) — The French government increased troop strength in the strike-bound port of Dunkerque today to 4,000 men. The soldiers are North African troops who took up positions opposite striking dockers who barricaded themselves in preparation for a siege.

Loyalists Claim Win At Suchow

Red Casualties Set at 120,000

NANKING — (INS) — Nationalist sources claimed today that the battered remnants of 15 Chinese communist armies are in full flight from all sides of Suchow.

They declared that the Red forces had suffered the "most disastrous defeat" of the civil war.

Communist casualties in the nine-day battle involving more than a million men were set at 120,000.

Nationalist dead and wounded were placed by the government's Central News agency at "over 40,000" in the repulse of the communist effort to seize Suchow and break through to the Nanking-Shanghai area.

The news agency said that in their retreat the shattered Red forces are being closely pursued by government armies supported by scores of planes bombing and strafing the fleeing communists.

The nationalist operations along the entire Suchow front were depicted as having passed into the mopping up" phase. The central news agency claimed that the great battle of Suchow now has been decided in favor of the nationalists. It said that the immediate peril to Nanking, Shanghai and the lower Yangtze valley has been eliminated.

POSSIBLE TRAP

Nationalist planes were said to be maintaining an aerial blockade over all crossings of the Grand canal which the communists must hurdle if they are to escape total destruction. The canal, with the Tientsin-Pukuw and Lunghai railroads, form a triangle within which the communists assembled their forces for the Suchow onslaught.

The nationalist news agency said the struggle had turned into the most disastrous defeat the communist rebels ever received at the hands of government troops."

The nationalist news service asserted that on Monday night the communist high command issued an order for a general retreat from both sides of Suchow."

The agency explained communist claims of local successes in the Suchow fighting by saying the government's strategy was first to concentrate its forces and then seek out the main communist attacks."

The news agency said that while massing their forces the nationalists "voluntarily withdrew" some units from certain sectors in preliminary actions.'

It added:

"The communists took this as a sign of weakness."

The agency said that on Wednesday the communist columns east of Suchow began a northeastward retreat toward Peihsien and Tancheng, with government troops hotly pursuing them.

Rain Trips OSR Escaper

An appeal for dry clothing at the Floyd Bennett lumber company, U.S. Route 42, at 10 a. m. today, resulted in the apprehension of a 22-year-old Mansfield reformatory inmate who fled the institution farm about noon yesterday.

Arthur L. Glattke, superintendent of OSR, said the inmate was on foot and apparently had been in the rain all night. He identified the youth as Lewis Fort of Franklin county, convicted of forgery and received on June 24 of this year.

OSR officials picked up the youth shortly after the telephone message had been received from the lumber company where Fort asked for a change of clothing.

Boxer Hubby Floors Wife In 1st Round

CLEVELAND — (INS) — According to Mrs. Dollie Bivins, her husband, Jimmy, still packs a punch.

At least that was the tale she told authorities last night at St. Luke's hospital in Cleveland where she was treated for a minor concussion and bruises.

The wife of the boxer, who battled Joe Louis for six rounds Wednesday night, said that her husband knocked her down — and out — after she told him that she had not cooked supper last night.

Monday Study Club Hears Program on 'Designing'

MRS. HENRY SMITH was the guest speaker for the Monday Study club recently at the home of Mrs. George Gaalaas, West Third street. She spoke on "Costume Designing" and told the different periods of designing from the Egyptian period to the "New Look." Mrs. Frank Janssen was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Robert Nichols was the associate hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. Coleman Todd presided at a table centered with an arrangement of white mums and white candles.

The next meeing will be at the home of Mrs. William Ross, Davis road, with Mrs. William Bloor assisting on Nov. 29.

Second District Re-elects All Officers

Mrs. L. H. Houston, 106 Lind avenue, was welcomed as a new member at a meeting of the Second District of the First Lutheran church yesterday at a meeting at the parish house.

Twenty-seven members and two guests, Miss Lottie Heffelfinger, of Chicago and Mrs. Albert Young of Mansfield were present. Hostesses were Miss Martha Kling, Mrs. Laura Meyers and Mrs. C. L. Mitchell.

Mrs. Jacob Weigand led the devotions and Mrs. C. C. Hout, chairman, conducted the business session. All officers were re-elected for another term.

The program was directed by Mrs. E. J. Lowery. Mrs. E. L. Becker gave a short talk on the origin of Thanksgiving. Contests were played and prizes were won by Mrs. George Garrison and Mrs. Philo Phifer.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 15, at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Elmer Balliet, 279 West Third street.

Completely Different Salad

If you like unusual wishes here are three salads that make collectors items. The first one is especially good with lamb or ham. You make it by arranging halves of spiced peaches on crisp greens. Fill the peaches with whipped cream cheese seasoned highly with horse-radish. You might try this next on Thanksgiving. It's wonderful with turkey. Alternate circles of peeled avocado and peeled ripe (but firm) persimmons on crisp greens. Serve with a tart French dressing. The third salad has a touch of Hawaii in it. It could be called Aloha salad. To make it surround a snowball of cottage cheese with a lei of crushed pineapple. Soak very thin circles of raw beets in ice water, roll up three together t omake a flower and garnish each snowball with one of the posies. Besides being pleasing to the taste, this salad is bright and gay to look at.

Luncheon meat may be used with cubed cooked potatoes and a cream sauce to make a supper dish; place in a casserole, and top with buttered bread crumbs.

Mothers Plan Holiday Dinner

Seventeen members of the Mothers' club of the American Legion auxiliary and one guest, Mrs. Dwight McCullough, president of the Legion auxiliary, met Wednesday for a covered dish dinner at the Legion home.

Mrs. Clark Ruddock, chairman of the club, announced a bazaar which will be held Dec. 10 at the Legion home. Plans were made for the annual Christmas dinner to be held at the Happy Harry house, December 15.

One comforter was knotted and one comforter was finished during the afternoon.

The next regular meeting will be December 1 at the Legion home. This will be a covered dish dinner with all day sewing.

Fellowship Class Elects Officers

Mrs. Richard Griffeth, 44 Maple place, was elected president of the Fellowship class of Bethel Evangelical Congregational church last night at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Gus Simpson, 250 Fairfax avenue.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. L. J. Hamilton; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Vernon Newlon, and teacher, Mrs. D. E. Stuckey.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Griffeth and a Christmas gift exchange was held. Refreshments were served later. The next meeting will be held Jan. 27, at 7:30 p. m. in the basement of the parsonage.

Small, Veteran Basketball Crew Represents Ontario

A small, fast team with plenty of the old savvy is expected at Ontario this year where Coach Dick Casad is drilling an 11 man basketball squad which has seven lettermen.

The team averages only about five-nine but all five regulars are back from last year's squad which won 13 and lost 6. Ontario finished third in the county last year.

Returning to the regular lineup are Donald Terman and Richard Hunt, forwards, and Howard Sunnucks at one of the guards. Jackson Perry, a regular guard last year is being pushed by Gene Henke who won a letter as a substitute. The same situation is true at center where Bob Krauss, the substitute, may get the call over Charles Hammer.

Other boys on the varsity are Paul Farst, Gerald Burger, Kenneth Gabor, and Carl Duffner.

Casad, a member of the Ontario "Wonders of 1938 is in his fourth year as coach of the school. He is an Ohio State graduate.

New London Plays Wellington Dukes In 'Big' Contest

WELLINGTON—The unabated rivalry between the New London Wildcats and the Wellington Dukes, now entering its 28th year, will see these two teams clash in "the game of the year," on the Dukes' gridiron tonight.

In the twenty-seven games played to date, Wellington has won 14 and lost eleven. One game ended in a scoreless tie and one ended 6-6. The most decisive defeat handed either team was the 1921 rout of the New London "Ramblers," who absorbed a 97-0 licking. The Wildcats are still trying to avenge that humiliating slaughter, the 1933 eleven coming the closest when they defeated the Duke squad, 75-2.

Wellington has won its last four contests. Since the 1944 game, won 59-19 by Wellington, the winning margin has dropped steadily, the Dukes winning in 1947, 6-0. Comparative 1948 records show that Wellington has won 4 and lost 4 while New London has a 3-5 mark.

Three Ohioans In Honor List

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio has three football players in the running for top honors among players of the nation's small college eleyens.

Statistics compiled from gridiron records of the small colleges put these Ohio players among the leaders:

Tom Phillips, Baldwin-Wallace, fourth in total offense (yards gained rushing and passing) with 1,251 yards: eighth in passing, with 55 completed for 1,184 yards.

Carl Taseff, John Carroll, sixth in rushing, with 871 yards.

Ron Millar, Wilmington, second in pass receiving, with 32 completions for 534 yards.

Smith Leads Perrysville Squad Into Court Season

PERRYSVILLE—Virgil "Snuffy" Smith, a five-nine bit of basketball dynamite, will lead the Perrysville high school cage team in its opening game tonight at Lakeville.

Smith, honorable mention for all-Ohio honors the past two years, scored 464 points in 24 games last year for a 19.3 point average. He is one of only three varsity lettermen returning to the Perrysville lineup. Others are Herb Brown and Jim Carr. They will be in the starting lineup along with Smith.

Coach Leslie Woodburn has eight boys who won reserve letters last year from which to choose his other starters. They are: seniors, Jim Christopher, Joe DeLong, Don Shireman and Tom Weber; juniors, Dwight Browning, William Cowen and Weldon Edmondson, and sophomore Harry Shireman. Weber stands six-foot four inches to top the average six-foot heighth of the squad.

Out for the sport for the first time are: senior Dean Carr; sophomores, Jack Covert, Chester Hupp and Bob Campbell, and freshmen Hank Cates, Pete Easterday, Paul Frontz, Larry Lackey, Johnny Mann, and Gaylord Zody.

Two reserve lettermen of last year — Dick Henry and Rodney Zody—will be out as soon as football injuries permit.

Oberlin College Wins Cross Country Crown

OBERLIN —(AP)— Oberlin college won the Ohio conference cross country championship again yesterday. Seven Oberlin men finished among the first 12 on the four-mile course.

Team scores were Oberlin 29, Ohio Wesleyan 39, Wooster 84, Mount Union 99, and Capital 108.

Runs Up String

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— Lightweight champion Ike Williams, hard-hitting Negro stylist from Trenton, N. J., celebrated his 19th straight victory today following his four-round technical knockout over Billy Nixon of Philadelphia.

Rose Problem To Be Settled By 3 Contests

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—The Big Nine, its football champion already known, settles its Rose bowl problem tomorrow with three games in which tradition may play as big a part as the starting lineups.

Michigan, certain of a share of the league title and not eligible to go to the Rose bowl, tangles with Ohio State at Columbus. Northwestern, the second place team and the probable Rose bowl choice, plays Illinois at Evanston. Minnesota, hoping to get back into the bowl picture, travels to Madison to meet Wisconsin.

TRADITIONAL GAMES

Tradition could lift any of the underdogs, Ohio State, Illinois or Wisconsin, high enough to pull an upset and break open the title or bowl hopes of all the favorites.

By the same token, Illinois' score against Michigan, victors over Northwestern, 28 to 0, indicated that the Ray Eliot eleven on its peak performance could give the Wildcats a tough game.

Wisconsin, winner of only two games all season, put on its best show of the year Saturday to whip Marquette, 26 to 0, and probably will improve some more when it faces the Gophers. Minnesota has been rated as a top club all season, but traditionally the Wisconsin game is rough.

A defeat of Ohio State by Michigan would eliminate the Buckeyes without a doubt. Combined with a Northwestern victory the Wildcats would go bowlward without question.

Syracuse university's boxing team will meet eight foes this winter.

Michigan Needs Victory Over Ohio State

Wolverines Ride Crest Of 22 Wins

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—For the first time in four years Michigan's traditional football windup with Ohio State Saturday at Columbus has direct bearing on the Big Nine championship That's one way of saying there's trouble in the air for somebody

Coach Benne Oosterbaan one victory away from a clean sweep in his first season at the Michigan helm, didn't have to dig into ancient history for evidence to show his team the dangers of putting title hopes against the Buckeyes on their own lot

LOSE ON TWO

On two of Michigan's three visits to Columbus the Wolverines could have tied for the conference championship by winning Both times they lost, 21 to 7 in 1942 and 18 to 14 in 1944, and Ohio State tucked away the crown

This year the Buckeyes can't gain even a part of the title, but if they can rise up to smash Michigan's 22-game winning streak they can prevent the Wolverines' winning it outright for the second straight year

Northwestern could tie Michigan for the crown by beating Illinois provided the Bucks win from the Wolverines

That's Oosterbaan's concern as he puts the finishing touches on a Michigan attack built around his sophomore hot shots, chucking Chuck Ortmann and speedy Leo Koceski

AERIAL DUEL

Indications are that Ortmann's duel with Ohio's Pandel Savic in the air may settle the issue

Ohio State boasts the Big Nine's leading offense and a rushing average of four yards a play for eight games but Michigan is confident it can break that down with its sturdy defensive line that has held eight opponents to an average of 82 yards a game on the ground Michigan isn't expected to make much hay with its running attack either against a Buckeye line averaging 208 pounds a man

Both teams shine when it comes to throwing

Columbus Begins to Close Down For the 'Big' Game

By JOHN FRYE

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Columbus began to close down today for the Michigan game

From now until midnight Saturday only people like trolley bus drivers milkmen cops and valve spinners at the water works will be doing any serious work Their minds won't be on what they're doing

Today is Chic Harley day in honor of the back who put Ohio State university into big time football back in the teens Tomorrow's the game

Oscar L Thomas director of ticket sales, says there are 79,000 tickets out and he hopes they're in the right hands

There have been the customary reports of scalping with the price quoted at $35 a pair on some curbstones, and Thomas appealed for help in stopping this sort of thing

He asked the public to tell him the seat numbers of any tickets that cost more than the official price because he has a list that shows what tickets were sent to whom

'We want to find out who sells those tickets' said Thomas, "and we'll see that those people don't have a chance to buy in the future"

The 13,500 Michigan rooters are already starting to get here by train, bus car, airplane, and pogo stick While Columbus citizens could fill up the stadium themselves if they could get all the tickets, the roads are also getting full of incoming Buckeye backers

Tomorrow noon it will be tough to anybody trying to cross U S 40 or any other trunk road coming into Columbus There won't be any break in the line of speeding cars and there won't be many highway patrolmen big enough to make a break

The Buckeyes put in an hour yesterday in their last full-scale drill before the game As in the previous sessions this week no chances were taken on anybody getting hurt

EVERYBODY BUSY

Coach Wesley Fesler kept everybody busy and worked out a couple of maneuvers new to the Bucks and he hopes, to the Michigans Ohio State has done its best gaining by rushing, and Fesler is trying to find ways and means to get around the Michigan defense

The Michigan team is expected in by special train about noon Saturday The train will park on the railroad spur right by the stadium

The Michigan band, supposed to be hot under the clef because a national picture magazine gave a lot of space to Ohio's marching band, comes in a little later

A whing-dang of a between-halves program is planned by the two bands, what with saluting each other's schools and pulling other tricks that would cost money to see in Madison Square Garden with the circus

Chic Coming Home To Columbus

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—"Chic" is coming home today, and Columbus has opened wide its arms in affectionate greeting.

And who, you ask, is Chic?

Well, around this football-mad Buckeye capital Chic is the "one and only"

He's Charles William Harley—only a few remember that full name—Ohio State's first All-America gridder He's the kid with the twisted smile who punted, passed and ran rings around everyone back in the late 'teens He's the little fellow who lifted Ohio State from a "college in a cornfield to one of the nation's football powers He's the kid who built Ohio State's huge stadium where tomorrow more than 80 000 fans will watch the Bucks battle Michigan's 22-game winners in the season's finale and the country's No 1 contest He's the bashful kid whose hat always fit him, despite showers of adulation which come to only a favored few.

★

Chic who never weighed more than 160 pounds is a product of Columbus East high school For three years there he was a ghost on the gridiron never losing a game until the final one against Columbus North

Then at Ohio State he zoomed like a comet across the Big Ten football fields giving the Bucks their first unbeaten-untied season in 1916.

Walter Camp named little Chic fullback on his All-America that year

In 1917 Harley roamed the chalk-lined field again, leading Ohio to eight wins and a scoreless tie with Auburn Poly In 1918 he answered the call to arms but he was back in his Ohio uniform in 1919 and the Bucks won six in a row before Illinois knocked 'em out of the conference title with a 9-7 verdict in the final game That year Camp named Harley to the All-America at a halfback spot He played 23 games for Ohio and was beaten but once by a two-point margin

Tales of his gridiron greatness are legion—to numerous and too well known to be repeated here Not too long after he left college he was stricken with an illness. For years he has been in the Veterans' hospital at Danville, Ill.

A few weeks ago as Ohio played favored Indiana at Bloomington, Chic was a surprise visitor. The Bucks, pepped by his appearance, swarmed over the Hoosiers for a 17-0 victory

Chic has just about recovered from his illness He's older, of course, and his hair is snow white He still has that bashful, twisted smile that endeared him to all who met him

★

Today the town turns out in a giant parade to welcome Chic home He's here for the big game between Michigan and Ohio State, the latter coached by Wesley Fesler, former Buckeye end, and third of the university's All-Americas Wes made it in 1929 and 1930—he and Harley being the only ones to gain the laurels twice

In Harley's three years at Ohio State the Bucks scored 726 points to 47 for the opposition, and 15 of the foes' points came on field goals as the three teams surrendered only five touchdowns

Ohio has never forgotten "Chic" a fact that Buckeye boys and girls will prove to him today as he reviews a mammoth parade in his honor All his friends will be there, and everyone who ever met him is his friend

Senior High Pulls Down 1948 Grid Curtain

Tyger Footballers Rated Under Ferry

MARTINS FERRY—Mansfield Senior high school comes to the end of another successful football season here tonight when it tangles with the undefeated Martins Ferry Purple Riders.

The Tygers will carry a seven win and two loss record into the fray but will rate a slight underdog to the Ferry team which has won eight and tied one. Last year, the Riders copped a 12-to-0 victory over Senior high at Arlin field.

Coach Augie Morningstar's Tygers were only fair in the first six games, winning four and losing to Whiting, Ind., and Massillon. However, the Bengal horde is riding the crest of a three-game winning streak.

Senior high reached its peak last Friday in surprising a great Hamilton club, 27 to 20. If Morningstar can get his men of football back to the mental attitude which was so prominent against Hamilton, they can knock Martins Ferry off its high pedestal.

OHIO'S TOP LINE

The Tygers will need that terrific spirit as Martins Ferry is blessed with Ohio's most powerful line. The Ferry forwards are big and they're tough. Bengal scouts rate the Riders on a par with Hamilton.

A victory for the Bengals could possibly move them into the top five of the Ohio scholastic parade. The Hamilton victory put Mansfield into tenth place, its highest ranking in the month. Massillon had originally knocked the Senior high out of the select ratings.

For 13 seniors, tonight will mark the end of high school pigskin careers. The group did okay by itself in the Arlin field finale last week.

JENKINS IS QUESTION

Six and possibly seven last-year men will be in the starting cast tonight. The lone question is the fullback position. If A. C. Jenkins, the big junior ace, is unable to go, Harry Osbun will assume the offensive duties. Jenkins has been slowed down all week with injuries. Morningstar was hopeful this morning that Jenkins would be available for partial service.

The other senior starters are: Bernie Weaver and Ken Carver, ends; Norb Shibinski, tackle; George Russell, center and Paul Ferguson and Capt. Joe Miller, backs. Relief seniors are: Mike [illegible], tackle; Tony Taddeo and Bob Burkhart, guards; Jim Chamberlain, center and Lou Gregorio and Joe Letizia, backs.

The entire Bengal varsity squad left Mansfield at 9 a. m. today. The caravan will return home immediately after the contest.

EIGHT LETTERMEN

Martins Ferry will throw eight lettermen against Mansfield. Five started last year's game and three appeared in relief.

The Riders present one of Ohio's most diversified offenses. They stick to the T and single-wing formations a good share of the time but also run from punt, spread and box formations.

This year's Ferry team is probably the fastest in history. A whole covey of light, speedy backs operate behind that rugged line. The Rider backfield averages 151.5 pounds with Bob Joseph, fullback, the biggest at 153. Fred Bruney, the smallest back at 150, is the leading scorer with 90 points.

The probable lineup:

Mansfield, Wt.	Pos.	Martins Ferry
B. Weaver (180)	LE (162)	D. Thomas
Shibinski (195)	LT (175)	Eden
Tipper (155)	LG (177)	E. Bruney
Russell (150)	C (145)	Thoburn
Jim Miller (165)	RG (210)	DeFede
T. Weaver (175)	RT (194)	Groux
Carver (137)	RE (155)	Douglas
Ferguson (145)	Q (151)	Komons
Joe Miller (190)	H (150)	F. Bruno
Tucker (140)	RH (152)	Duncan
Osbun (185)	FB (153)	Joseph

BeeGee's Win Streak Is In Grave Danger

COLUMBUS —(UP)— One of Ohio's four undefeated football teams was in grave danger of going down to defeat tomorrow as 16 games—12 with out-of-state foes—were scheduled for the last full weekend of college football.

The team with the dagger over its head was Bowling Green, which must take on a rugged John Carroll outfit at Bowling Green this noon.

Carroll, which has undergone a much tougher schedule than the Beegees, was favored in most betting pools by one touchdown.

The other three undefeateds either were out of the woods already or faced easier foes. Denison completed its second consecutive undefeated season Saturday but it had a challenger for Ohio conference laurels in Heidelberg's Princes, who were also undefeated and favord over hapless Akron tomorrow.

BETTER THAN EVEN

Undefeated Wilberforce was rated better than even bet to take West Virginia State college into camp at Charleston for at least a share of any negro national honors that were being handed around.

Tonight, Youngstown was the choice to take over Baldwin-Wallace and Tommy Phillips at Youngstown. Dike Beede's Penguins are a shade too powerful, despite the pin-point passing of Phillips.

Dayton's fliers, one of the top teams in the state despite their unexpected 13-13 tie with Oklahoma City last week, should be bound to victory over the Iowa State Teachers.

The Ohio Wesleyan-Washington & Jefferson game at Washington, Pa., should be close, Alliance, Pa., was favored over Steubenville, and New Hampshire received a slight nod over Toledo, in intersectional frays.

Kent State and Connecticut was a toss-up, Oberlin and Wooster likewise, and Adrian, Mich., looked like a winner over Otterbein. Western Reserve stepped out of its class for a game with West Virginia at Morgantown, W. Va., and Marshall should fall victim to Xavier.

Tulane of New Orleans also looked like the scalper against Cincinnati as did [illegible]ern Michigan at Ohio university.

BUCKEYE CAPTAIN—Big Dave Templeton, the former Senior high school football star, will lead the Ohio State Buckeyes into the big fray with the unbeaten Michigan Wolverines in Ohio stadium in Columbus tomorrow. At 27, Dave is probably the oldest grid captain in the history of Ohio State. He is one of the best guards in the Western conference.

'Cooke Bowl' Tilt Is Off; Eagles Plan Other Events

ASHLAND—Coach George Donges announced today that Ashland college's attempts to book a benefit "Cooke Bowl" for Thanksgiving day have not materialized.

Donges has contacted practically every small college in the state in an attempt to stage a benefit for Center Russ Cooke of Mansfield, who sustained a broken neck in the Hiram game last Saturday.

All, however, turned the proposal down since they had stored their grid equipment and most players planned trips home over the holiday.

In place of the game, Donges announced a series of events to help make up a "pot" to be presented to Cooke, now at Crile hospital, Cleveland.

First of these will be a tag day on the college campus Monday. Friday, the students will hold a tag day for the public in Ashland and the Myers Pump basketball team will play a benefit game in the high school gym. A Mansfield team will be contacted as an opponent, if possible.

The Ashland Booster club started the ball rolling with a $100 check last night.

Fight Results

PHILADELPHIA — Ike Williams, 139, Trenton, N. J., stopped Billy Nixon, 142, Philadelphia, 4 (Non-title.)

BOSTON—Ralph Zanelli, 147½, Providence, stopped Anton Raadik, 160, Chicago, 5

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Jesse Flores, 140, Stockton, knocked out Nicky Smith, 132, Los Angeles, 10

WILKES BARRE, Pa.—(UP)—Castellani, 158½, Luzerne, Pa., outpointed George (Sonny) Horne, 159½, Niles, O. (10).

O'Neill To Wait Before Decision

CLEVELAND, —(INS)—Steve O'Neill, recently deposed manager of the Detroit Tigers, will table all minor league propositions until after the major league meetings next month.

That was the report last night following an afternoon meeting at Cleveland stadium with Cleveland Indian vice president Hank Greenberg.

It was rumored earlier that O'Neill was offered the managership of the San Diego Padres, a club with which Cleveland has a working agreement.

Mansfield Rug Tops Loop; Al Stirtzinger Blasts 631

Mansfield Rug and Linoleum stood alone atop the Commercial B league standings after blasting its way to a clean sweep of three games from Yuncker's last night.

Led by Frank Burton's 195-231-192—618, Mansfield Rug swept to the top while the Rose Bowl, despite having the league's No. 1 bowler, lost two of three.

Al Stirtzinger of the Rose Bowl rocked the pins for a 235-184-184-631 to pace the circuit. Cliff Forsythe turned in 190-193-245-648, but his Ringside team fell three times before third-place Dearman's Transportation. Dearman's, led by Dale McCullough's 176-194-233—603 ran up the high single game, 985, and high series, 2815.

Bunk August of Zitzer's, another team which won in a sweep, posted 225-215-177—617. Ingram-Martin also won three straight from Fancee Brand Foods as Hal LeMunyon's 598 showed the way.

Hugo Brannon rolled 591, L. Wolf, 576, and Alex Zacharzuk, 575.

★

Evelyn Marshman led the Women's Commercial A league with a score of 162-195-197—534. Elnora Kanz was runner-up with 158-179-189—526, followed by Sue Humphrey, 517, Helen Civay, 506, and Helen Kemle, 505. Just missing the 500 mark were: Kitty Robinson, 495; Mary Dintamin, 492; Dot McDevitt, 479, and Kate Theiding, 578.

Ohio Sport Center won two of three games from Outlet Furs while 36 Bar moved to within two games of the leaders with a clean sweep over Yuncker's.

★

Joe Harrod led Tappan Stove bowlers with a 145-205-177—527. H. Shaffer was in second place with 523, followed by Ed Rogers, 522; Fred Domer, 511; William Gordon, 507; Emmett McIntire, 507; Bob Tipul, 502, and B. Brinning.

★

Westinghouse's Dorothy Dunham was tops in the Women's Industrial league with 150-167-154—471. Florence Nelson, Lumbermens, had 147-168-135—450 and Mary Jameson, 149-159-120—428. Others were: Louise Bush, 423; Dorothy Neddell, 418 and Mary Smoot, 417.

Naomi Carr had a single game of 174.

League-leading Dominion won two of three games from Westinghouse but managed to retain a six-game lead.

★

W. Warren's 159-196-185—540 was tops in the Westinghouse B league at the Richland. J. Heckert was second with 171-172-190—533 and R. Bottorf, 165-176-179—520. J. McCullough had a 518 and F. Bertka, 515.

★

Helen Lumbert, Brandenburg Chevrolet, was tops in the Amvet Auxiliary league with 134-110-155—399. Marie Zimmerman, Drive-in-ette, had a 382 and Hulda Pahls, Hughes Hardware, 380.

★

Amvet league scores included: J. Rizzo, A. B. Grafton, 478; Schneider, Purdy Construction, 473; R. Culler, Gardner's 464; J. Euka, Art-Litho Print, 462 and Stan Fox, Mansfield Hardware, 458.

Tiro, Lexington To Battle Tonight

TIRO—The Tiro high school basketball team will open its 1948 season tonight at Lexington. The game will pit the local team against a team coached by Don Sutter, a former Tiro athlete. The same officials scheduled for the game here will be in charge of the game at Lexington.

Tiro will play its second game next Tuesday night at New Haven. The first home game will be Dec. 3 with North Robinson.

Teams Reject Many Bids For Bowl Contests

NEW YORK, — (UP) — Promoters of the so-called minor bowl games were busy with a lot of business today, much of it consisting of rejection slips.

The one big signing reported was that of the University of Nevada, the nation's leading team in total offense, for the Harbor bowl at San Diego, Cal., on Jan. 1. Paced by passer Stan Heath, Nevada has won seven out of eight games with one more to go against Wichita.

Nevada is also considering a post-season game against the University of Hawaii in Honolulu, Dec. 17, in which they may also play if Hawaii meets the terms asked.

No opponent has been picked for Nevada in the Harbor bowl but officials said they were hoping for Kansas, Missouri, or Oklahoma.

WANTS THE ARMY

In Philadelphia, the Philadelphia 1949 Cancer Crusade asked unbeaten Army to meet unbeaten Notre Dame on Jan. 1 in a charity game in any city acceptable to the two teams. No reply has been received to the invitation.

Unbeaten Florida A. and M. accepted an invitation to meet Union University of Richmond, Va., in the Orange Blossom bowl for negro schools at Miami, Fla., on Dec. 4. The aggies are also trying to get a post-season game against Wilberforce of Ohio.

Promoters of other bowls were also getting answers—unfavorable ones.

At El Paso, Tex., officials of the Sun bowl had their invitation turned down by Texas Tech.

The Vulcan bowl at Birmingham, Ala., was turned down by West Virginia state college. School officials said the game would conflict with their basketball schedule.

Joint Meeting Held By Tri Gamma Group

The joint meeting of the Tri Gamma sorority was held Thursday evening at Liberty part pavilion with Delta chapter as hostesses. Mrs. W. C. Leonard was the chairman in charge of arrangements.

Plans for the formal dance to be held November 27 at the Leland hotel ballroom were completed. Bill Leicy's orchestra will play.

The members planned to have a Christmas party at the Happy Harry clubrooms on December 16.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Mrs. J. E. Henderson and Mrs. D. E. Zelenka.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of mums with candles on each side. Mrs. Parker O'Brien and Mrs. J. P. Keith presided at the Thanksgiving appointed table.

Ladies' Aid Society Meets at Weavers

The Ladies Aid Society of the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Gerald Weaver, 12 North street, with Mrs. Russell Lumbert serving as hostess.

Mrs. Curt Snouffer, president, conducted the meeting at which eight members and one guest, Mrs. George Beck, were present. Devotions were led by Mrs. E. W. Welsh from the seventh chapter of Matthew. Mrs. Harry Meizer, Mrs. Snouffer and Mrs. Weaver were named to the committee to pack Christmas baskets.

The next meeting will be at one o'clock covered-dish dinner, Dec. 18, at the home of Mrs. Edward Brightell, Smith avenue.

T. W. Club Given Book Review

Mrs. C. A. McClure, 267 Vennum avenue, entertained 23 members of the Teachers' Wives club Thursday evening. Mrs. W. B. Firestone presided for the business session after which roll call was answered on the topic, "Holiday Suggestions".

Miss Eleanor Wilcox furnished the program, reviewing a book "Without Halos" by Bess White Cochran. Tanksgiving games were a diversion with prizes won by Mrs. Robert Glass and Mrs. Harry Hostetter.

Associate hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Vinton Childs, Mrs. Harry Dotson, Mrs. C. C. Secrist and Mrs. George Sherman.

The Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 9 at the home of Mrs. Firestone, 568 Heineman boulevard. There will be an exchange of gifts at that time.

Fete Miss Perl With Shower

Miss Frances Perl was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Edna Mauritz, 93 Orchard street. Mrs. Charles Remy of Galion was the associate hostess. Twenty-two guests were in attendance.

Games were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Larry Murphy, Mrs. Richard Anderson and Miss Eleanor Arndt. They presented them to the honoree.

Refreshments were served at small tables with miniature brides as favors. The centerpiece on the serving table was a sprinkling can. The color scheme for the party was burgandy and white.

Miss Perl is the bride-elect of Donald Sneeringer. They will echange nuptial vows Nov. 25 before the altar of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church at 9:30 a.m. with Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiating for the formal ceremony.

John Todd Park Group Has Dinner

Fifty members and guests were present at the John Todd park auxiliary covered-dish dinner recently. Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pore and Mrs. Zora Baker were hosts for the evening.

The December 4th card party has been postponed until January.

Carol Isaman, Patsy McDonald, Wilma Bryner, and Billy Isaman won the prizes for the children's games.

The next meeting will be Dec. 15. This will be a covered-dish dinner and Christmas exchange. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bunting and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bunting will be the hosts.

Would Let More DP's Enter U. S.

Rep. Celler Cites Changes

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Celler (D) N. Y., revealed plans today for major revision of the Displaced Persons law when he assumes chairman of the House judiciary committee Jan. 3.

Celler favors five important amendments to the DP law which would bring it more in line with the recommendations of President Truman.

Mr. Truman made an issue of the Republican-enacted law in his campaign for election. He declared that it discriminated against Jews and Catholics. Under the law, 205,000 European refugees are being admitted to the United States during the next two years. The first contingents now are arriving from Germany.

Celler proposed the following changes in the law:

1. The "cut-off" date would be advanced from December 1945 to April 1947. The present law makes ineligible for admission refugees who entered the American-British zones of Germany after the earlier date.

2. DPs would be admitted without regard to immigration quotas. The 80th Congress provided that 50 per cent of those admitted should be deducted from the regular quotas.

3. Preference given the Volksdeutsche, refugees of German descent, would be eliminated entirely.

4. DPs would be admitted according to a "suitable distribution formula."

5. No preference would be given as at present to Balts.

It was anticipated that Celler would also recommend an increase in the number admitted to 400,000, as urged by the administration. Celler's views were expressed in a letter to International News Service.

Artificial Hands Give Boy Hope

Three-Year-Old Gets Present

CLEVELAND — (INS) — A belated birthday gift has given [illegible] Tommy Herbert of Cleveland a new grip on life.

Tommy, who lost his hands when a switch engine struck him 14 months ago is fast learning to manipulate a pair of artificial hands given him Saturday in a belated celebration of his birthday which was a week ago Wednesday.

"No broken hands now," Tommy said happily as Cleveland Herbert received his new birthday present.

[illegible] of Youngstown Artificial Limb company and his baseball team, which is composed of handicapped persons, brought the flesh-colored nylon plastic hands to Cleveland Saturday.

Tommy Herbert tries out the artificial hands replacing his own which he lost under a switch engine. (International)

The specially constructed hands, which were made in London, England, were given to Tommy by the Society for Crippled Children in Cleveland. The hands have fingers and a movable thumb attached to leather cuffs which are strapped to Tommy's arms.

Tommy, for the first time since the accident, except for a brief practice session in Youngstown, is able to comb his hair, hold a book and write on a piece of paper.

But baseball fan Tommy likes his other present too—a five inch gold-plated trophy from the baseball team of the Cleveland chapter of Possibilities Unlimited, an association composed entirely of Cleveland amputees, to their mascot.

"Tommy loves baseball," Mrs. Herbert said. "I have to pitch to him long after the other boys have gone home. He bats and runs the bases when he plays with the other little boys in the neighborhood."

Several days a week Tommy goes to the Society for Crippled Children's nursery school where therapists coach him to operate his new hands.

At the school Tommy models with clay, puts wooden puzzles together, strings beads and plays the drum in the school band.

"Tommy can eat without help now," Mrs. Herbert continued. "Mrs. Lillian Martin, a new friend of Tommy's, gave him a bracelet with a hole in the top through which he puts his fork or spoon and clamps them down. Then he eats by himself."

Foster Home Plan Urged By Council

Commissioners Get Recommendations

The executive secretary must evaluate foster homes so that they may be certified by the Division of Social Welfare, the council declared. "At the present time, new foster homes have not been found and the community is unaware of the need for such homes."

The report adds that the council believes that "membership on the Child Welfare board should be confined to individuals who not only have a knowledge of modern child welfare techniques or are willing to take the time to learn about them, but are sincerely willing to apply this knowledge to the solution of child welfore problems of Richland county."

The council's report says that members are in "hearty accord" with the phases of the present program of Child Welfare board, "namely, the educational opportunities, maintenance of religious affiliations, and a normal recreation program."

The council members state that they concur with the opinion of the state survey that the Children's Home is properly located, but added that steps should be taken to improve the wiring, lighting and sanitary conditions.

The commissioners are urged to carry out improvements outlined in the survey and to employ an architect to lay out the proposed changes.

The report points out that one of the main deficiencies is an inadequate medical and dental program. "Little or no preventive work is done either with the children or the employes; nor are regular periodic examinations given; and the entire program needs to be reconsidered," the report says.

It recommends that the commissioners contact the county-city health commissioner with a view to setting up an advisory board to work out a complete medical program for board employes and children under the board's care.

"We recommend, also, the use of local recreational agencies to help in planning a well-rounded year-round recreational program for the children, as well as developing additional facilities and equipment for this purpose," the report says.

It adds that no further recommendations were made as to physical improvements at the home, as outlined in the state report as that falls within the province of an architect and the executive secretary.

BACKING SEEN

Regarding finances, the report says that the budget preparation is a part of the duties of the executive secretary, and therefore, the council made no recommendations, but adds this statement: "The Council firmly believes that the community will fully endorse action on your part to appropriate additional child welfare funds as needed to finance the improved program."

Although the state survey recommended the creation of a Community Welfare council for the coordination of welfare activities, this report made no such recommendation.

Instead, the report says that council members feel that more time is needed for study of the many phases of the problem before "we are capable of making recommendations."

"Such a move requires extended research and study and we, therefore, postpone a recommendation in that respect at the present time," the report said.

Vernon Lawrence, president of the council, who presided at the meeting, said he would appoint a committee within a few days to make a study of the various ways used in coordinating welfare activities in other counties.

Scott Coffin, who read the report at the meeting, said during a discussion period that the housing shortage has aggravated conditions, pointing out that 15 children in the Children's home are there because their parents can't find homes for themselves and children.

Lawrence, contending that there hasn't been enough publicity to obtain foster homes, said Cuyahoga county officials have been able to obtain use of boarding homes in Richland county He also said that the state of Michigan does not at present have a single Children's home.

35 ATTEND

The meeting was attended by about 35 persons Copies of the report were distributed among them Another resolution which passed unanimously called for distribution of copies of the report to organizations and groups in the county with a view to giving the report maximum publicity and endorsement of the recommendations from the groups.

The report congratulated the commissioners for their zeal in requesting the state survey.

Members of the study committee who prepared the recommendations were W. M. Althouse; E. V. Bradley, Exchange club, Earl R. Brandenburg, Cooperative club; Mrs. William D. Clauss, Business and Professional Women, Scott Coffin, Kiwanis; G. F Dent, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Mrs Dean W Dickerson, Cottage Garden club, J H. First 'Honor Citizen' To Be Announced Tuesday

Mansfield's first "Honor Citizen" of the month will be presented at the 10th edition of the stage show "The Best Is Yet To Come," sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in the Senior high school auditorium, Tuesday night.

JOHNNY DEE

The "Honor Citizen" will be presented at each of two stage shows to be given at 7 and 9:30 p. m. Tuesday. He or she will be given a jeweled pin awarded by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The stage show will feature Johnny Dee and his "New Englanders." Other acts on the program include McConnel and Moore, Texan George Dunn, Don and Beverly, Waldy Palmer, Eddie and Lucille, Ross and Ross, Vickie Lane, Lois Ray, Dick and Dinah, and Gloria Foster.

Dee played with several name bands, including those of Jimmy Dorsey, Frankie Carl, and Shep Fields, before organizing his own orchestra.

The "Honor Citizen" for this month has been chosen by a committee made up of representatives of various Mansfield civic organizations. The committee will choose a new "Honor Citizen" each month to be presented at the stage shows.

The "Honor Citizen" each month will be a person who, the committee believes, has exemplified the Golden Rule in his daily life.

ASKS SUGGESTIONS

Tuesday night members of the audience will be given a letter from Robert Murphy, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The letter will explain the purpose of the monthly "Honor Citizen" awards and stage shows. It also will ask the audience to suggest civic projects for which any profits from the shows may be used.

The final decision on the use of the funds earned by the shows will be made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. However, if enough worthwhile suggestions are received, those most often repeated will be selected and voted on by audiences at the December show.

The committee which chooses the "Honor Citizen" is made up of C. K Smaltz of the Chamber of Commerce, Joseph Denig of the American Legion, Robert Bonham of the Amvets, Eugene Shoemaker of the Exchange club, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn of the Lions club, Arliss F. Porter of the Masonic bodies, Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner of the Richland County Ministerial association, Miss Clara Miller of the Business and Professional Women's club and Miss Agnes Kessler of the YWCA.

National Library Files Hold Full Set of Comic Magazines

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Know where one of the country's biggest comic book collections is located?

It's in the Library of Congress

This is not to imply that the country's senators and representatives spend their time perusing the comic books.

In fact, quite the contrary. Archibald Evans, chief of the serial section, says that so far as he knows, no member of congress ever has called for a single comic book.

This collection comes about through a law which requires a publisher to file a copy of his magazines with the Library of Congress if he wishes them copyrighted.

Thus most comic magazine publishers at one time or another have filed copies with the library. Most of them send copies regularly

Right now, by count, the current file of comic magazines shows 315 different titles—which means there are at least that many different ones available for junior to buy.

That number doesn't include dozens, possibly hundreds, that may have bloomed and died after a few months.

The library's comic magazines aren't out where the public can lay hands on them, but they are available to anyone who asks—just like any other reading matterial.

Crawford Reduces Men's Clothing By 20% to "Help Crush Inflation"

Price Cut, Effective at Once, First of Kind by Major Producer—Will Apply to Company's Entire Line

Crawford Clothes, one of the largest clothing manufacturing chains, announced yesterday a 20 per cent price reduction on all of its men's clothing. The price slash, effective today, was a surprise move and will continue until further notice, Joseph Levy, president, said.

The cut is the first of its kind by a major clothing-manufacturing chain and is designed to "help crush inflation," Mr. Levy said. He added that because of the continued advance of woolen prices and labor costs, no relief from advancing clothing prices is in sight. So rather than wait for the swing of the economic cycle the chain decided to act now.

Lead Way to Lower Prices, Mfgrs., Distributors Told

By Staff Correspondent

Chicago, Oct. 7. — Manufacturers and distributors now must lead the way to lower prices, G. R. Herberger, president of Butler Bros., said at a conference here of the general managers and sales managers of the six Butler wholesale houses.

"The public is impatient of high prices, but instead of becoming 'apologist' for the price spiral, the time has come for manufacturers and distributors — with the help of labor — to give everybody better values by cutting costs."

Beauty Shop Operator Fined $50

Charged With Hiring Unlicensed Operator

Mrs. Mildred Guthrie, proprietor of the Salon For Beauty, 22 Helen avenue, was fined $50 and costs in municipal court today after she was found guilty of employing an unlicensed beauty parlor operator.

Judge H. H. Schettler suspended $40 of the fine on condition that Mrs. Guthrie, who was represented by Attorney John O'Donnell, refrain from violating the state cosmetology law.

The case evoked considerable interest among other beauty parlor operators and their employes. Approximately 20 attended the court session today.

O'Donnell remarked that the case involved "persecution" as well as prosecution. Basis of the controversy was not revealed in court, however.

O'Donnell moved for a dismissal, after the state rested, on grounds that it was not proved that the unlicensed operator was employed at the Salon For Beauty. Judge Schettler dismissed the motion and found the defendant guilty.

In other actions, Mrs. Audrey Chamber of Olivesburg road, was fined $10 and costs on an assault and battery charge brought by Mrs. Ada Smith.

John C. Fetter, 97 Lexington avenue, paid $10 and costs for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Kiwanians Hear Ford

Speaking before a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday, Curtis L. Ford, acting postmaster, pointed out some of the glaring defects of Mansfield's over-age postal system.

"Built in 1914 to handle a population of 22,000, the same facilities now have to take care of between 55,000 and 60,000," Ford stated.

Temporary measures such as additional loading space, mail hoists, a mail chute, and general repairs have helped, but Mansfield's only solution in the long run is a new and modern post-office building, the speaker emphasized.

C. H. Huston served as program chairman. Two new members officially inducted at the meeting were Ralph Chapman, associate secretary of the YMCA, and C. N. McGrew, county agricultural agent.

Car Thieves Busy In Area

A car theft and several attempted thefts of autos in the Olivesburg area last night was under sheriff's office investigation today.

The stolen car, a 1932 Rockne sedan, no longer manufactured was reported stolen early today in a call from the owner, Amos Kirkwood of Olivesburg. Kirkwood said he had left the keys in the car.

Deputies said reports that several other cars in the area had been tampered with had reached the office today.

In the front row, left to right, are Donley Weller, Roma Farst, Wilbur Walker, while the back row is formed by Janet Reel and Jim Gatton.

Critic Brown Raps Comics

"The Russians want neither war nor peace. They just want chaos and confusion," he said. "The question is, can we meet the situation.

"If you have enjoyed tranquillity once in your life, better cherish the memory, for you are not likely to have it again. Never has mankind progressed so rapidly toward prolonging human life and in finding means of mass slaughter. We are near a major victory, yet we are very pessimistic about our future."

He had kind words for the British. Churchill is one of the great figures of our times and in all history, Brown said. Then he praised Laurence Olivier, the British star, as "the finest actor in the English speaking world."

Brown recommended four recent books as required reading for Americans who would keep abreast of the times. They are "The Price of Power," by Hanson Baldwin of the New York Times. "The West at Bay," by Barbara Ward, a British writer he described as possessing "the kind of brilliant mind no man can forgive in a woman;" "Our Plundered Planet," by Fairfield Osborn, and "Education In a Divided World," by James B. Conant.

The critic said Louis Bromfield was a "precisionist in fiction and was mentioned as possble secretary of agriculture until recently." (Talk of his selection to head the agriculture department ended with the defeat of Thomas E. Dewey for president.)

He praised the Richland county author for his work on behalf of conservation and modern farming methods.

Given Parole For Christmas

A Christmas parole today was granted Clifford Nixon, sentenced on Dec. 18, 1946 to one to three years for non-support from Richland county.

Court records show that Nixon was placed on five-years probation on May 29, 1945 on his plea of guilty to the charge. He was sentenced on the December date when he violated his probation

Seven other men at the London prison farm and a woman at the Marysville reformatory also received paroles. Nixon's parole is effective Dec. 22.

John H. Walsh Dies In Akron

Friends here learned today of the death of John H. Walsh, former Mansfielder, last night in Akron.

Mr. Walsh, known here as "Jack," was affiliated with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company for 20 years before going to Akron in 1922 to open a restaurant. He was active in sports promotion and civic affairs in Akron. He retired last year because of ill health.

Services will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m., at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Akron. Burial will be in Mansfield cemtery at 1:30 p. m., Monday. The body is at the home, 105 Elmsdale avenue.

Firm Builds Platform

Construction of a loading platform designed to eliminate vertical parking at the National Biscuit company plant at Fifth and Walnut streets has been started.

Company officials said the work should be completed in two weeks. Until now, large trailer trucks have been forced to park in Walnut street when loading or unloading merchandise.

As a result, the trucks extended halfway across the street, blocking traffic and creating a serious hazard, especially when fire trucks from Central station made runs to the north side of the city.

The new loading docks, authorized by city council are built on the sidewalk. They will permit the trucks to park horizontal to the building and leave both lanes of Walnut street open to traffic.

Similar authorization by council enabled the Humphryes Manufacturing company to construct two loading platforms at its plants

Firemen Go To 2 Homes

Two minor home fires early today and a grass fire yesterday were extinguished by Mansfield firemen.

At 3.45 a m today, No 5 station men went to 825 Arlington avenue where insulation on a furnace blower caught fire.

At 6:44 a. m. firemen from No. 3 and No. 5 stations went to the home of Herman Hipp, 252 Ruth avenue, where a water heater had set fire to rags in the basement. No damage was reported at either home

A grass fire on Belmont avenue at 2:32 p. m. yesterday brought firemen from No. 2 station.

Five Guns Stolen At Olivesburg

The theft of five guns from a second hand store in Olivesburg was reported to sheriff's deputies today.

Mrs. Ralph Hannafus, whose husband operates the store, reported the thieves broke into the store last night, taking two 32-calibre revolvers, two 38-calibre revolvers and a 22-calibre single shot pistol Three flashlights also were missing.

YWCA as World Organization Stressed In Address Here

Miss Marian Hamlen, of the national support staff of the YWCA, stressed association participation in world affairs when she spoke to about 75 members of the Mansfield "Y" last night.

"The YWCA is one of the practical institutions for world understanding and unity," Miss Hamlen said. "Work in this direction is being done through the Reconstruction Fund and World Fellowship fund.

"YWCA members in the United States often think of themselves as the only ones who are giving. Actually we only supplement the work of the national organization in each country. Local finance campaigns are conducted in each country, and city after city have gone over their goals. But increased cost of living means that the goals set up for a year may last only three months."

Colored slides supplemented Miss Hamlen's talk. These were pictures of women attending the international study conference on "Women and World Reconstruction" held at Columbia university last summer. Miss Hamlen said the YWCA was one of six national organizations asked by Gen. MacArthur to send specialists to Japan to aid in leadership training.

During her two day visit here Miss Hamlen spoke at the Employed Girls' club meeting and also discussed the national support program with a group of 11 members at the Women's club Thursday noon. Mrs. A. M. Colby was in charge of this session.

Two Men Held For Non-Support

Two men were apprehended today by sheriff's deputies on charges of non-support.

Donald Peterson, 26, of 180½ North Main street, was held for juvenile court on charges of non-support of two children from Oct. 25 to Nov. 18.

Arthur Emery, 44, of Burger avenue, was held for Ashland county authorities where he is charged with non-support, sheriff's deputies said.

Police Seek Sex Maniac

OSSIPEE, N. H., — (INS) — Investigators rounded up 25 known sex offenders today in the region around Ossipee hoping to weed out from those ranks the brutal slayer of 22-year-old Ruth Eisenberg.

Medical Referee Dr. Francis J D. Dube declared that Ruth, who vanished last July, died at the hands of a "savage sex maniac" and that her body bore evidence of "extreme mutilation."

"This girl died of asphyxiation She had a gag in her mouth That gag was her silk panties. They had been stuffed in her mouth and then rammed down the throat far enough to cause suffocation."

Thieves Loot Parked Auto

Theft of two handbags, one containing clothing valued at $50, from a parked car on North Diamond street yesterday was investigated today by police.

E. B. Howard of Zanesville reported to officers at 3 p. m. yesterday he parked his car at 120 North Diamond an hour earlier and returned approximately three-quarters of an hour later to find the rear door open and the bags missing.

Howard said the one bag contained his clothing and that the other, a salesman's case, contained order blanks for beer.

Another stolen aerial was reported to police by Roy Gee, 153 Gibson avenue, who said his auto aerial was stolen yesterday while his car was parked in the Humphryes Manufacturing company parking lot on Wayne street.

Another License Period Scheduled

Identification Officer Paul Martin announced today that another bicycle licensing period will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 noon Saturday in the police garage at the city building.

All bicycle owners who have not yet purchased licenses were asked to report.

City Gets Sanitation Plan Data

City Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier yesterday received notice of a statement of policies recently adopted by the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

The commission attempts to control sanitation of the Ohio river water and its tributaries. The states on which the Ohio river borders, signed a compact last June 30. The object of the agreement was to launch a program designed to improve the purity of the water in the Ohio river.

Mansfield is a participant in the program inasmuch as it is part of the Ohio river watershed.

Policies of the compact include control of sewage and industrial waste, attempts to get legislation passed through the several state legislatures regulating stream pollution, information and education of the public to the importance of through the U. S. Public Health Service.

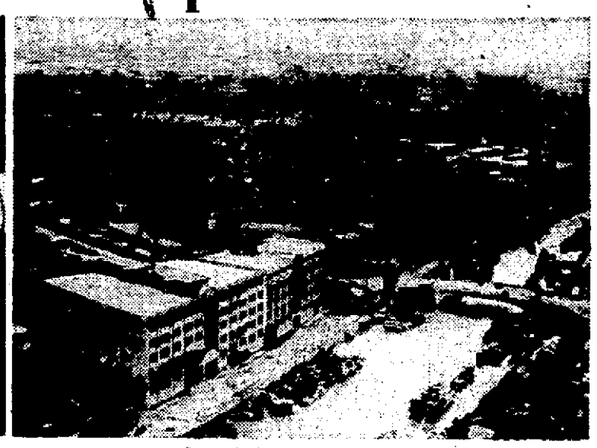
Communists Close In On Suchow

Million Chinese Troops Lock In Bloody Struggle

Chiang Kai-shek



Shanghai is a wealthy prize.

Mao Tse-tung

Storm center again.

Nanking, Chinese capital, survived Jap attack, faces another threat.

An estimated 1,000,000 nationalist and communist soldiers are locked in the bloody struggle for North China, with greatest pressure bearing east of the Suchow-Pengpu area (see map), north of Nanking, Chiang Kai-shek's capital. Americans are being evacuated both from Nanking and the great cosmopolitan city of Shanghai as the fight draws nearer and rice riots wrack the populace. U. S. nationals are even urged to leave Tsingtao, U. S. fleet anchorage and "safest spot in China." Pitted against each other in the mass fight are Gen. Lin Piao, conqueror of Manchuria, and Gen. Fu Tso-yi, with the former believed holding a slight numerical superiority. Mao Tse-tung is political chieftain of Chinese communists. His star appears rising as Chiang leadership shakes.—(International)

3-Year-Old Shot By Young Hunter

CANTON — (UP) — Three-year-old Daniel Fritsh was hospitalized in critical condition here today with shotgun wounds inflicted by a youthful hunter. The boy's mother, Mrs. John Fritsh, told authorities her son was playing on their farm near here late yesterday when the shooting occurred. The shots were fired by an 11-year-old boy who said he thought he had shot a pheasant.

It's Your Fight, Too!

Bing Crowley was "beefing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is preserved in every aspect, big or little—whether it's the right to vote, or the right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale with friends.

And from where I sit, no liberty's too small to overlook. Because the minute one small freedom is threatened, all the others are in jeopardy—just as the minute one small country loses freedom, all its neighbors are in danger!

Wife Becomes Servant After Odd Ruling

CHICAGO—(INS)—A Chicago housewife became her husband's servant today.

Mrs. Beatrice Borla, 35, refused to withdraw a divorce suit against her husband, Charles, 38, unless her status was changed to that of virtual servant.

The couple became "reconciled" yesterday in Cook county circuit court. Borla agreed that Mrs. Borla be cook and housekeeper, mother to their two sons, be allowed to come and go as she pleases when her work is done, have dates and access to his bank account and not have to put up with kissing him.

PAGE EIGHT MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1948

Who Are Those 'And Others'?

REFUSAL by former Mayor Earl A. McFarland to disclose names of the "OTHERS" who helped him contribute more than half of the Richland county Republican executive committee's expenses in its recent unsuccessful election campaign is bound to cause piquant speculation.

Nominally, Mr. McFarland is one of the Republican members of the county election board and last summer he was an alternate to the GOP national convention which he did not attend. However, it is quite generally known that his power within the party extends much, much farther than these minor positions would indicate.

Indeed, it would seem obvious that any man who contributed more than half of his party's campaign expenses would wield considerable authority in party decisions.

Of course, Mr. McFarland's contribution of $2,118 out of total GOP expenditures of $4,129 is reported as having been made by himself "AND OTHERS." But Mr. McFarland seems to prefer to retain all the credit unto himself, insofar, at least, as revealing other names is concerned.

Since he refuses to disclose who the other persons were, who lumped their money with his own, he puts himself in the position of controlling these other contributors.

This also raises the obvious question of why these "OTHERS" should not want their names mentioned, honestly and openly, along with his. For that matter, why wouldn't Mr. McFarland want to give credit where credit is due? He has never been known to hog the party spotlight.

* * *

THE PARTY, in which Mr. McFarland holds such important behind-the-scene power that he contributes half of its campaign expenses, finds itself in a peculiar position.

The Republicans control the city administration of Mansfield. The prosecuting attorney is a Republican.

Yet gambling flourishes openly and without apology from gamblers or officials.

In complete defiance of law, a bookie joint, crap and poker games, punch boards, tip sheets, and the numbers racket operate without interference from local police, the prosecutor, or grand jury investigation.

Such protection is highly valuable to the men who rake in heavy profits from these rackets.

It would certainly be unfair to infer that gambling protection in the city of Mansfield is being paid off, at least in part, in the form of campaign contributions.

However, Mr. McFarland could make it perfectly clear that his party is above such tactics if he would present an itemized statement of the "OTHERS" who helped him make up the $2,118 kitty for the unsuccessful GOP campaign.

Christmas Savings Clubs Popular

THRIFT is not an entirely forgotten trait, as is evidenced by the fact that more than 5,000 residents of Mansfield and vicinity have availed themselves of facilities of the Christmas Savings clubs operated by local banks for the convenience of their patrons.

In view of the fact that, in recent years, no interest has been paid on such deposits, their attractiveness has been entirely in the opportunity thus given to put aside a certain amount of money each week for fifty weeks, in order to have the total available the first of December for whatever use may be desired.

Undoubtedly a large percentage of the accumulated money is intended to go either for Christmas gifts or to meet personal or family needs, but in some instances a part of it is used to start a Christmas savings account for next year, and gradually the inclination to save a part of income extends to opening an interest-bearing account, an investment in government bonds, or some other form of security.

It is gratifying to note that many children have formed the habit of making regular deposits in Christmas Savings accounts—a habit, by the way, which may well be encouraged by parents.

Co-operation In European Recovery

WE MAY sometimes overlook the significance of the fact that the project popularly known as the Marshall Plan is properly called the Organization for European Economic Co-operation.

Though the plan is financed by the United States, co-operation in Europe is supposed to be its basis. This fact is brought out by a recent move on the part of nine countries to send men of cabinet rank to Paris to form a committee which will have authority to pass on economic decisions as to their effect on the plan as a whole.

The British envoy to this meeting is Sir Edward Plowden, chief of the economic planning staff of the British government. One of the immediate projects for discussion is the four-year plan for the development of Western Germany. Besides Great Britain, the countries represented on this committee are France, Italy, Holland, Switzerland, Sweden, Turkey, Belgium and Ireland.

The whole idea of international co-operation in economic matters on a continental scale is new in Europe, so it is no wonder that its implementation is slow in being brought about. Step by step it is being carried out, however. In the embodiment of this idea lies the best hope for the future of Europe and of the world.

Ohio's retiring Governor Herbert is to have Michigan's retiring Governor Sigler as his guest at the Ohio State-Michigan game in Columbus tomorrow—which will give an opportunity to explain to the other how it all happened.

Word comes that monkeys in a Pittsburgh zoo refused to look at a movie when it was shown before them—higher criticism, perhaps.

What Some Other People Are Saying

SUMNER WELLES, former undersecretary of state: "The Palestine crisis was caused by the tortuous maneuvering of the United States and Great Britain. The U. S. must face the facts and return to the realism of the original U.N. partition plan."

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Monday, Nov. 19, 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Linn, 267 Newman street, were injured when auto was struck by Erie train at Bowman street crossing.

School board was considering report of overcrowding of Prospect school while six vacant rooms were reported at Carpenter school.

Sudden change to colder weather brought first snowfall of season in the Mansfield area.

Party was given for Mrs. Nora Hawkins, 113 South Main street, on her birthday anniversary.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grandstaff, 216 North Mulberry street.

Boyd Lantz moved from 127 Rowland avenue to corner Heineman boulevard and Garfield place.

Harold Wiegand, 63 Ford street, returned to Ohio university, Athens, after spending week-end with his parents here.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On November 19, 1863, Abraham Lincoln delivered his famous Gettysburg Address at the dedication of a cemetery for Union soldiers at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The Nation Today

There Are Also Duties

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—A friend said, "I want to say something I wish you'd write." So he told me. And this is it.

I'm writing it because it affects all of us in one way or another. He said all that follows:

We talk a lot about our rights. But what about our duties? A duty like voting.

I know people who look up the stock market page every day to see how they're doing because they have ten shares of something.

But they don't vote. They don't have enough interest in their government to vote . . . Yet they have their lives and their future invested in the government, a far bigger investment than they have in stocks and bonds.

People in this country scream that they don't want any interference with their rights, like freedom.

But they can keep those rights only so long as this democracy, which guarantees the rights, works.

Since we are all citizens enjoying those rights, then it is our duty as citizens to see that this democracy works at its best.

And it works best when everyone does his duty as a citizen by voting.

That means voting for our officials, but particularly for our President and the Congress members who, we hope, will do their best to preserve our rights.

The last election shows pretty well what I mean. Only about 47,000,000 out of 94,000,000 people of voting age had enough interest to vote.

So one-half the people of voting age left it up to the other half to make the decision for all and do the duty all should have carried out.

* * *

It Could Happen Here

LET'S USE the newly elected Congress as an example although the same thing might happen with any Congress.

If Congress or the President makes a bad mistake which could ruin this country, in foreign affairs or something at home, then - - -

Congress in desperation might think it necessary to curb some of our freedoms or wipe them out.

If that happened we no longer would have the same democracy we had before. Once the change started, no one could say where it would stop.

The change might not come about suddenly. It probably wouldn't. It might come about gradually, a little chipping away here and there.

Sure, the same thing might happen even if all the people of voting age voted. A full vote is no absolute guarantee against mistakes.

But if democracy broke down after a full vote of the people, then it would be a failure of a democracy which had had a full chance to work.

It wouldn't be a failure because half the people, failing to appreciate what they had, left it up to the other half to make the decisions for them.

I know it's a tough job, and a never-ending job, to get people to take enough interest in democracy and their own future and welfare to vote.

Education is one way of doing it. The best way, I guess. And I don't mean just education in schools. I mean education in the responsibility of citizenship, like voting.

Active-minded people can help by talking to their neighbors or getting up discussion groups in their neighborhood where the issues and the candidates can be talked over.

A lot of people, I think, would vote if they were reminded to register and where to do it and when and things like that. I know people ought to take care of those things themselves. The fact is, many don't.

Right now the job, more or less depending on where you live, is being done by politicians, big and little, and labor union people. I know a lot of people look down on politicians.

But the union people and the precinct workers and ward-heelers go around and ring bells and talk to might-be-voters. You may argue that they're doing all that for selfish reasons.

Whatever their reasons, they're doing the basic job of trying to get democracy to work.

Just because democracy has worked pretty well so far is no assurance it always will. The times are getting more dangerous, not safer, for democracy.

Speaking of Your Health

Causes of Indigestion

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

INDIGESTION, which has been called "the great American stomach," is one of the most common disorders of mankind. And if its sufferers are legion, so are its symptoms and causes. For this reason, it is among the most difficult of the physician's problems.

Indigestion may be due to some actual disease of the digestive organs or it may result merely from poor functioning of the stomach and bowel. Thus, the first question the doctor treating a patient with indigestion must decide is whether a diseased condition is responsible for the trouble.

Due to Nerves.

Previous studies have shown that it is never safe to assume that the symptoms of poor digestion are due to "nerves." In one study of more than 2,500 patients, it was found that half of those with stomach and bowel disturbances had some actual organic disease.

In view of this great variety of things which may produce digestive troubles, it is clear that no case of indigestion can or should be treated until thorough study has revealed its cause.

Food Allergies.

Digestive disturbance may be due to food allergies or sensitivity to food of one type or another. It is frequently difficult to decide whether or not the indigestion is due to sensitivity to food.

Many people are subject to heartburn, a feeling of fullness, excessive gas in the bowel, and a feeling of discomfort if they eat certain foods. It is true that these symptoms may be produced by food allergy, but they may also come from many other causes.

Indigestion may be a functional disorder that is not due to organic disease but to some way in which the bowel and stomach are acting.

In a number of the patients studied, no cause for the indigestion could be found other than fatigue and poor habits. It is possible that there is some other responsible cause in many of these cases, of which medical science is as yet unaware.

Lack of sleep, and excessive use of tobacco, coffee and alcohol are common habits which may contribute to digestive disturbances.

Remember that indigestion is only a symptom which, like headache, may come from a large variety of causes.

Truman May Favor, Commission Report

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Regardless of the GOP defeat, it looks as if the Hoover Commission on Reorganization of the Government was going to win out in the end.

Created by the "second worst Congress," and sponsored by Senator Taft's spokesman, Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio, most Democrats figured the Hoover commission's work would now be junked. But it won't, and there are two good reasons why.

One reason is Harry Truman. The other is Herbert Hoover.

These two gentlemen have become quite fond of each other. Despite the cracks he took at Hoover during the campaign (which came under the head of "campaign oratory"), Truman really likes Hoover. And the feeling is reciprocated.

Hoover had never set foot in the White House since the sad day he left it in 1933 until Truman invited him back after Roosevelt's death.

The fact that Truman called the ex-president in for consultation automatically shielded him from the barbs and sting which the New Dealers had slung in his direction for twelve long years. No longer was Hoover their favorite punching-bag.

Not only that but Truman had brought him before the public eye once again. And Hoover was so grateful he even requested the Gridiron club to let him speak, in order to pay special tribute to his newfound friend.

Truman, in turn, not only likes Hoover, but plans to use Hoover's name to wrest from Congress powers which they refused to give Franklin Roosevelt.

* * *

Congress Withheld Power.

TRUMAN not only wants to be a good President, but he is acutely sensitive to Dewey's charges that Washington needs a housecleaning. He has one in mind. But he has learned, far better than Dewey, that you can't clean house unless Congress gives you the power to housecleaning.

FDR asked for housecleaning power, and Harry Truman, then only a junior senator, vividly recalls how the Republican press smeared it as the "dictatorship bill" and how a Democratic Congress barely passed a bill giving him severely restricted powers.

So Truman wants to use Hoover's name to put through a new reorganization bill, and he wants Hoover's support in lining up conservative Republicans to back him.

Furthermore, Truman believes that Hoover, like the Supreme Court, has read the election returns, and will not recommend anything which he, Truman, can't go along with. Since Hoover was also once a president, conditioned by the White House background, they think somewhat alike on what is needed in the executive branch of the government.

There are only two living men who have any idea of the cares and wear and loneliness of the presidency. This bond makes the two men closer than party labels. That, perhaps, was one reason why Hoover stayed out of the recent campaign, even refused to let the Republicans get campaign ammunition from his commission files.

Furthermore, Hoover needs Truman even more than Truman needs him. This is Herbert Hoover's last public service. He has worked long, hard hours, and he wants this reorganization of government to be a final monument to his career. That is why he is leaning heavily on Truman to rescue his last efforts from defeat.

Unless Truman does so, and gives them a Democratic label in the new Democratic Congress, they will have no chance of passage and Hoover's last effort for his country, his one chance to stage a comeback, will have vanished.

Production Must Increase

YOU CAN write it down as definite that the interior department will ask Congress to force the steel industry to increase production — if the industry doesn't take the necessary steps itself.

Steel production has now dropped from a wartime peak of 95.5 million tons to 91.2 million tons annually — the only major industry to fall down.

The reason: Big steel companies have refused to expand. Two big steel spokesmen — Eugene Grace of Bethlehem Steel and Charlie White of Republic Steel — have bluntly advised their stockholders to wait until costs come down before building new facilities. Meanwhile, the need for steel is increasing as production lags.

To meet the crisis, Assistant Secretary of the Interior Girard Davidson has appealed to Senator Joe O'Mahoney, who will head the joint congressional committee on the economic report, to introduce legislation forcing the steel industry to expand.

Merry-Go-Round

Insiders who got prompt acknowledgments from President Truman when they wired their congratulations, are now treasuring telegrams from him which include the statement: "We now have an unmistakeable mandate from the American people." . . . Conscientious, controversial Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, is due to be legislated out of his job. Few labor leaders will be sad . . . To encourage a larger turnout at the polls, Congressman Arthur Klein of New York will ask Congress to grant a $40 income-tax exemption to everyone who votes.

Assignment: America

Bartering Is Revived

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Slowly, and in a slightly stunned fashion, the crowd filed out of the Macy committee's hearing in the House office building.

One look at their faces and it was obvious that they were completely confused. So, as a matter of fact, were the reporters who finally quit telephoning and typing and settled wearily down for a short bull session before going home.

"Apparently," said one newsman with a sigh, "the only thing to do is to go back to the barter system . . . "

And that, ladies and gentlemen, was pretty much the general reaction to the testimony on new car sales—plus bonuses, tips, presents or what-have-you—before the questionable trades practices committee.

Currently, the testimony only concerned such activities within the District of Columbia, but New York Congressman W. Kingsland Macy, committee chairman, has made it quite clear that the probe has far greater ramifications — at least potentially.

In short, it was perfectly obvious to anyone who sat through the lengthy hearings that something was wrong with the so-called auto sales system. Guys were kicking in with anything from silver cigaret cases to nearly a thousand bucks in cash, just for the privilege of purchasing a new car.

Also, it developed quite often, they didn't even know with whom they were dealing. They just signed a blank title sheet which somehow got co-signed and notarized at a later date.

Some of them, as a matter of fact, thought they were dealing with one company right up to the time the congressional committee showed them the title papers they had signed — which proved they'd unwittingly sold their cars to another firm. It was all very confusing, but, of course, every bit of confusion somehow called for a little more cash.

* * *

Who Really Did Wrong?

AND WHILE the crowd was quite convinced that something was drastically wrong, it became increasingly difficult to decide who was the wrong-doer.

For instance, a young fellow named Lee Earp told how he'd swapped a 1946 model sedan on a new convertible. He said they gave him a thousand bucks for his sedan, but he signed one of those blank title papers.

When filled in and notarized, the paper recorded the transaction as being with another auto company entirely, and set the purchase price of his used car at $1,700. Then, as though that were not enough, it developed that his sedan was resold for $1,950.

At that testimony, the crowd sighed in sympathy for the young Mr. Earp, who seemingly had been done out of $950 — and the sympathetic sounds increased when he said he finally had to sell the new car two or three months later for "what I could get out of it" because the payments were too tough.

But back on the stand trotted one William Manuel, auto salesman, who was involved in that particular sale and had testified before. He told the committee that Mr. Earp had promptly dickered around with convertible-hungry buyers and re-sold the new car at a tidy profit. The implication was that, had he not been so kind to young Mr. Earp, he might have had that self-same profit for himself.

By this time, the crowd's sighs seemed to indicate that it was at least slightly sympathetic with practically everybody involved in the deal.

Only, you sensed that some of those present wished, for the sake of sanity, they could figure out who was wrong.

Both groups indicated they thought that sort of thing was going on all across the country.

It was that latter type of talk which frightened the countless representatives of the auto manufacturing companies who had been ordered to attend and report on the hearings.

Farmer's Diary

A Long, Long Trail

By CALVIN A. BYERS

A FARM BOY hitched three teams to a big rock that was imbedded in his father's field and pulled it apart so that deep gouges were made in the earth and small bits of rock were scattered all around. When spring came, the path made raw by the stone became a line of thick green grass.

When the cattle were turned in, they deserted the rest of the pasture and ate first the grass that grew where the stone had lain. The Farm Boy looked on, amazed. He turned in the hogs. They did the same, until the line of greener grass was eaten close to the roots. The Farm Boy began to grind the rocks and returned them to a little patch of ground. There he grew crops more abundant than those his father had ever grown.

He built himself a little laboratory and studied rocks in his spare time. With every year his knowledge of soil increased.

Most of every plant, he found, is water, air and sunshine, but the earth contains what it takes to make all the rest available. Therefore, he reasoned, food can be no better than the soil in which it grows.

The young man traveled far and brought home rare elements — he learned chemistry, biology, physiology, dentistry, medicine. His pursuit of knowledge led him into slums and palaces, into dungeons and caves and monasteries —into gardens and mines and mills and fishing hamlets. He became obsessed by the idea that food was making heaven or hell for the ones who ate it.

When he learned that the same form of life became ponies in the Shetland Islands, draft type horses in Belgium, racers in bluegrass Kentucky, pintos in the Rockies — depending upon their diet through generations — he thought he knew why people of every nation retain their national identity.

He became a learned and honored man — then turned his back on fame to pursue his search for truth. Genetics, atomic fission, chain reactions, electric potentialities of the earth . . . the pioneering thinker worked out curative diets for the plagues of heart trouble, undulant fever, tuberculosis, cancer. He fed armies to win, and hospitals to cure the sick, and because natural laws are not respecters of creeds or sects, he knew that the common denominator of all men's thinking must be God!

The trail that began with the rock in the field still leads on — and on. Will it lead to a genuine peace and enough food for the bodies, minds and spirits of all the world? Well, why not? Peace begins in your mind, and mine.

As Cerf Tells It

A prominent jockey at Belmont wooed and won a Port Washington belle who outweighed him by a cool 100 pounds. After the wedding festivities he begged the best man to come with the bride and himself to their newly-rented bungalow. The best man demurred. "It just isn't done," he pointed out. "It's only for a minute," explained the jockey. "I just want you to help me carry her over the threshold."

Museum Gets 15,000 Tiger Beetles For Insect Study

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Dr. Mont A. Cazier is the nation's, No. 1 collector of beetles.

He has just returned from a 21,000-mile field trip through the United States with 15,000 individual specimens of the tiger beetle for the American Museum of Natural History. Also included among the lot were at least six entirely new sub-species hitherto unrecognized by scientists.

Dr. Cazier, who is chairman of the museum's department of insect's and spiders, reports that the tiger beetle, known technically as the cicindela, is one of the most adaptable known insect groups. Its study is important, he said, because it is an insect which can and does survive and thrive in every region of the world.

All beetles are pests. The sooner science can learn more about them and what mades them live and what would eliminate them, the better for man.

Dr. Cazier is eager to investigate the tiger beetle. He calls it one of the most pugnacious of the carnivorous insects, It feeds on other animals, leaving plant life for other types of insects,

In rounding up his new collection of beetles, Dr. Cazier visited 36 states and parts of Canada. Explaining how the cicindela adjusts itself to different environments, Dr. Cazier pointed out that in the same species the colors range from almost black in the eastern section of the country, to bright red in Texas and the Midwest and bright green in the Pacific Coast areas. Almost all species have striped backs—thus they are called tiger beetles.

Gives Ruling On Applications

Applications by reserve company grade officers volunteering for recall to active duty should be sent directly to the Adjutant General, Washington, D. C., Capt. R. M. Flynn, ORC, announced today. For quick handling letters should be marked "Attention: AG PRD."

The new system does not apply to warrant officers, enlisted personnel holding reserve commissions, national guard officers, or field grade officers. Applications from such categories will continue to be submitted through channels.

Don't Put Your Child In A Competitive Position

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures

"ENJOY your baby for what he is. Don't put him in competition with every other child."

This advice is to be found in "Baby's Daily Time Cards," published by the U. S. Children's Bureau of the Federal Security Agency. It can be yours by simply writing to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., enclosing 10 cents.

These cards are grand guides to help you plan your new baby's days. You'll want to help him have good health and make a good start for a happy, useful life. Here are some of the things the Bureau suggests you can do for your baby:

See that he has a complete physical check-up at the time of birth and again when he is about a month old.

Take him to a doctor at set times for check-ups and advice.

Make his home as healthful as you can.

Get him comforatble clothes that will let him be fee to grow and to use his powers as they develop.

Praise him when he does new things. But never try to force him ahead faster than he wants to go.

Help him learn to like the food he needs.

Give him a chance to get plenty of sleep.

Play with him.

See that he gets sunshine and fresh air as much as you can.

Keep him away from all sick people.

Make sure that he gets inoculations to protect him against diphtheria and smallpox (and whooping cough and tetanus, too, if your doctor says so).

Try to give him a peaceful, happy babyhood.

If you can, plan your baby's day so that his father will have a chance to be with him, and even help to care for him.

★

Parents who have difficulty in getting their youngsters to bed will be interested in "A Treasury of Good Night Stories," edited by Caroline Horowitz and just published.

Designed for the three-to-seven-year-olds, it is a carefully selected group of stories well within a child's range of comprehension. When mother completes the reading of a story, her child should be left in a completely relaxed mood. There are no disturbing ideas, no situations which strike terror, no attempt to capture interest through a frightening focus. The 36 stories in this book are accompanied by full-page illustrations highlighting each story. The shortest stories take two minutes to read, the longest eight.

Another new book for children "Here and Now Story Book," is written by Lucy Sprague Mitchell and illustrated by the late Hendrik Willem van Loon and Christine Price.

The age range is a wide one, beginning with stories suitable for reading aloud to the very youngest and continuing through stories just right for third graders to read themselves.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday November 20

There are signs of keen inclination to move about, to make changes, to travel, consider new deals and renewed contracts. While all such are under propitious rule for success and happiness, yet it would be more than likely that some form of intrigue, treachery or craftiness could result in regrettable entanglements, sordid affiliations or sinister practices. Suspicion, jealousy, underhand methods might involve to the extent of frustration and failure.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to take every precaution against involvement in irregular deals or practices, in which hidden enmity, jealousy, suspicion and craftiness are at work to undermine sound efforts. Under promising rule are travel,change, new arrangements or contracts in which lively and happy issues could be anticipated. But a watchful and astute preparation for such subtle designs and complications could find cherished objectives thriving and pleasant The interests of youth and of students are especially favored

A child born on this day may be well equipped for a successful and lively career, being adaptable and versatile There are signs of complications and regrets in connection with jealousy, intrigue and hypocrisy.

Little Girls Like Hair-Dos

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeature Beauty Editor

It had to happen same day—a beauty salon exclusively for children. Now mothers who are harried by restless youngsters can deposit them in their own sub-sub-sub glamor salon for a hair treatment, and pick them up when they have slowed down to a walk.

Your little girl will love a trip to the beauty parlor, if they are all like the one Victor Vita of N. Y. dreamed up for his young customers.

From the chandeliers hang stuffed animals and other playtoys. The little tot can fasten her eyes on these while her hair is being shampooed—with a soapless shampoo (which does not sting the eyes), no less! She can play with doll cut-out books, read the comics and sew her dolly dresses which she sits under a grown-up dryer such as Mom uses

Victor's plans include circus design wallpaper and other innovations to help encourage little moppets on the charm road. His beauty shop operators can even switch into a story telling mood at a moment's notice.

The advantage of the salon for youngsters, as Victor sees it, is to help build up their self-confidence without making them self-conscious. Pretty soon Mother can carry on at home, even cut her child's hair with professional hair cutting shears. Victor only urges that Mothers never thin the ends of the hair. When thinning is needed it should be done around the crown, he says. Any slight natural curl on the ends is aided by shaping when the hair is still wet from the shampooing. Just cup the hand under the hair ends and shape the hair slightly pageboy, without pins or curlers.

Bangs are a good choice, Victor says, because they're flattering to almost every child. If your child has protruding or large ears, she should not wear her hair behind her ears.

Want to know how to keep your child still while cutting her hair. Use Vito's method. He sits down and the child stands! He does this because he has noticed that children get very fidgety and squirm when they sit in a chair to have their hair cut. On the other hand, they are quiet when they stand.

For a company dish, fry chicken and make a cream gravy, then add oysters to the gravy and serve with hot biscuits

New Buses Due Here Next Week

5 Vehicles Will Complete Fleet

Five new city buses, which had been scheduled to arrive last month, are due next Tuesday or Wednesday, Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., announced yesterday.

The buses, last of 14 new vehicles ordered by the firm following its disastrous fire a year ago, are now being serviced in Newark

E. L. Hukill, vice president of the company, said the buses will be used on the Park avenue west, West Fourth street, and Hedges, Fairground lines. The buses will haul 27 passengers each.

When the new vehicles arrive, the firm will have only three old buses in service in Mansfield. It operates 27 buses in the city.

The company's new $100,000 garage on East Fourth street is about 60 per cent completed and should be under roof by Jan. 1, Hukill said

The garage replaces the building destroyed by fire last November when 17 buses burned.

Hukill said work on the building has been delayed by inability of the contractors to obtain certain materials The firm had hoped to have it done before the first of the year. Ivon Bauer, Mansfield contractor, is building the garage.

Six More Join Navy

Six more area men have enlisted in the regular navy, the U S Navy Recruiting office announced today.

Five men enlisted for three years. They are Lewis G Martin, Fredericktown, R D. 2, John R Rogers, Edison, R. D. 1, Joseph B Spiegle, Shiloh, R. D. 2, Jesse A. Poorbaugh, Ashland, and Paul G. Jones, 195 Hedges street.

Eugene W. Henkel, Galion, enlisted for one year.

All the men with the exception of Jones were sent to the Navy Training center at Great Lakes, Ill for 12 weeks of recruit training Jones, a navy veteran, was sent to the navy receiving station in Washington, D. C. for assignment.

Sales Tax Revenue Still Ahead of '47

Collections of state sales tax in Richland county total $1,380,960 so far this year, a report from the state treasurer's office showed today The figure at this time last year was $1,203,745.

For the week ended Nov. 6 collections were $27,864, a sharp drop from the $35,393 collected in the corresponding week last year.

Claims Those Who Uphold Honor Today Are Ridiculed, Suspected

PERHAPS it has always been so, but in this day a man who speaks of honor or endorses decency as ideals for men invites ridicule and a suspicion of sanctimony. I think of Notre Dame and the military academy as two American schools for men which conspicuously dare to preach these ideals. Harvard once was valiant, but I would not think of Harvard in association with personal virtue now. Some Notre Dame and West Point undergraduates will explode at the innocence of my belief and I know too well that many ex-soldiers will bitterly ridicule the very mention of honor in West Point officers.

Though mention of the virtues seems pietistical and men speak of them only in derision, that is mostly bravado. Men are not as devilish as they want to seem.

But by an interesting affectation, this breed of Toms will disown a man who defaults his word in business but excuse or envy a fellow who betrays a sacred vow.

As to whether Notre Dame men keep their honor active—whether they "work at it"—in after life, I have an opinion. The most vehement appeal to the conscience of a venal politician in our time, entitled "Open Letter To a Boss," by the Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S. J., was directed straight at Tom Pendergast of Kansas City.

It could have been addressed to Hague of Jersey City, Kelly of Chicago and Curley of Boston. They are all alike with personal variations except that only Pendergast would take a rake-off from the degradation of girls who were children of the neighbors about the plains.

It is far from my intention to say that Notre Dame men are not men of honor in the workaday value of the word. They certainly are not, however, as famous for their honor as civic leaders as for their probity in family life. We could do very well with a Pendergast, a Hague, a Kelly and a Curley as good as these men have been bad and it is natural to look to the direction of South Bend.

West Pointers are better than the men who were unfaithful to the West Point code would give us to believe. In reply to the common remark that of course a lot of them were chasers overseas, a West Point wife said, "Yes, and a lot of them weren't, but you never hear of them."

HIGH IDEALS

I have referred to the West Point code. The code begins on the page after the oath to the Constitution in the little book called Bugle Notes, the cadets' "bible." Under the title of "dedication" we find, "the traditions held sacred by the members of the long gray line are herein compiled. Cherish and pass them on."

The brief address to the class of 1952 by Maj.-Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the superintendent, who led the rough, disorderly 101st airborne division in France, also bears down on "character."

Lying, quibbling, evasive statements or technicalities to defeat the spirit of justice are fearless honesty in setting forth the truth.

A cadet who intentionally violates the honor code is warned to resign at once. Offenders are never granted immunity.

Anything to which a man signs his name means irrevocably what is said, both as to letter and spirit.

Intentional dishonesty is never condoned and every man is honor bound to report every breach of honor that comes to his attention.

The cadet's "all right" is his solemn word of honor. If he falsely answers "all right" upon challenge he is dishonored and driven out.

Now it is indeed effrontery—or would you say evidence of moral courage?—to say, "honor must come from some respected body. That body is the Army."

West Pointers certainly did not live up to that mission in recent years. The looting and ravishment of Germany were a national disgrace.

The lobbying and apple-polishing in Washington to catch a nod from Roosevelt or the war department, or even from Elliott, were no better than the groveling of Hitler's sycophants.

The greedy scramble of West Pointers to retire with absolutely fictitious disabilities on higher pensions flouted the code and the spirit of the academy.

But if the corps of cadets does not aspire again to moral leadership where may we look for it?

The idealists and true patriots of the Army should be encouraged to try the game again. The old grads are still better than the run of men.

Girl 'Robin Hoods' Handy With Arrows

By NITA BRANSON

The Greeks had a word for it several thousand years ago. Translated into English, it would have read "archery," according to Miss Louise Ferris, assistant physical education director at Senior high school.

Then nothing more was heard about the bow and arrow game until Robin Hood revived it in Sherwood forest, according to the story books. Since then, it has become increasingly popular. Today at Senior high school 19 girls practice the art.

Any Tuesday after school, if you stood on the north lawn of the Senior high grounds, you might, by the stretch of the imagination, think you were in a part of Old England—except for one thing. None of the Maid Marians of Robin Hood's day wore such convenient costumes as sweaters and skirts and loafers.

Miss Ferris has been teaching the art for the past two years.

"It's a nice bit of gymnastics, because it brings into play all muscles of the body," Miss Ferris said. "It's one of the finest all-round physical education stunts one can find."

They may not have been perfect in form, but the 19 girls who took their stances, got point of aim and prepared to "fire" at Senior high Tuesday afternoon, presented a very pretty picture.

One of the most gratifying parts of the program is that the school provides the equipment. There are the bows and arrows of course, the bull's eye, or target, standard, arm guards and even finger tabs. Stretching the bow till it can get the proper "whang" is hard on a girl's forearm. Most of them need a little support for unaccustomed muscles.

"A number of the girls received archery equipment as gifts and never knew how to use it," Miss Ferris recalled. "That's one reason why they became interested in the class. And of course, it's a game that can be played out of doors, which is another factor in its favor."

Although Miss Ferris had taught archery before coming to Mansfield two years ago, she had never found a school where such fine equipment was provided, she said.

"It's the best here and lots of fun to teach," she said.

3 Charged With Liquor Violations

Nov. 30 Hearings Are Scheduled

Three liquor permit holders, two in Mansfield and one in Crestline, today were ordered to appear before the state board of liquor control to answer charges of liquor law violations. The hearings will be held on Nov. 30.

Harry J. Cain, of the S. and R. restaurant, 205 Spring street, is charged with possession of gambling devices. Liquor officials in Columbus said the device consisted of a cookie jar containing chance stubs. He has a 3.2 beer permit.

Ruth Taylor, of the Ru-Mars Bar and Grill, rear of 117 East Fourth street, is charged with after-hour sales. She has a beer and wine permit.

On Sept. 11, 1947, Estella Taylor, was fined $50 and costs on conviction in juvenile court of selling wine and liquor to two minors, aged 15 and 17, at the Ru-Mars Bar and Grill.

Harry Rogers, of the Roxy restaurant, 356 North Seltzer street, Crestline, is charged with employment of a minor and possession of gambling devices, a punch board. He has beer and wine permits.

Stricken At Church, Dies

Taken ill at 8:30 p. m. yesterday, while attending the First Christian church, Mrs. Orley B. Reed, 66, died at General hospital this morning without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Reed was the wife of William Reed, 9 East Second street. She was born in Butler, Sept. 11, 1882, but had spent most of her life in Mansfield. She was a member of the First Christian church and the Spanish War Veterans auxiliary.

Surviving, besides her husband are two sons, Harold J. and Grover C., of Mansfield; two brothers, Frank P. Aungst, of Mansfield; and Harry Aungst of Orrville.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the Wappner funeral home with Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home starting Saturday evening.

Death Takes Mrs. Fletcher

Mrs. Cora McCreary Fletcher, 86, widow of Walter Fletcher, former Lucas postmaster, died at her home, 108 Arthur avenue, last night following an extended illness.

Mrs. Fletcher was born in Hayesville, July 4, 1862, and spent most of her life in Lucas. She moved to Mansfield in 1943. Mrs. Fletcher was a charter member of the First Congregational church in Lucas and a member of the auxiliary to Earl D. McVey post, American Legion.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Daisy Sherry and Mrs. Alice Collins, both of Mansfield, and several nieces and nephews. A son, Charles Fletcher and a daughter Mrs. Ella Jones, preceded her in death.

The body is at the Finefrock funeral home where friends may call. Services will be conducted at the funeral home Sunday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church of Mansfield. Burial will be in the IOOF cemetery at Lucas.

C. A. Divelbiss is cubmaster. Dr. B. B. Sutton is chairman of the troop committee. Pack mothers include Mrs. Dorothy Sutton, Mrs. Clyde Hosack, and Mrs. L. J. Barr.

More State Aid Sought

Mayor In Group Seeing Governor

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn joined with the chief executives of other Ohio cities today in a campaign to get more state money for cities, villages, counties and townships.

The Associated Press reported from Columbus a five-man delegation from the executive committee of the Ohio Association of Municipalities planned to call on Gov. Thomas J. Herbert to present another of a long series of pleas for a bigger share of the state's tax money.

Gov. Herbert is considering calling a special session of the present Republican-controlled legislature before it gives way to the Democratic-controlled body which meets Jan. 3.

The immediate need is for $2,000,000 more for a tuberculosis hospital to be built at Ohio State university's new medical center, and Gov Herbert indicated he might also ask for another appropriation to help pay the veterans' bonus without issuing more bonds.

Twenty-four hours after the possibility of a special session became known, the Association of Municipalities' executive committee went into a closed session in Columbus last night. Mayor Charles E. Slusser of Akron, chairman, then announced the delegation would try to see Gov. Herbert today and ask him to include more local government aid in his call for the session.

Gov. Herbert refused to include such a request when he called a special session last July to adjust old age pensions to new federal grants and to eliminate the retail sales tax from purchases under 41 cents.

Car Injures Farmer, 50

HAYESVILLE — A Mansfield motorist was exonerated by Rex McKinley, Ashland county sheriff's deputy, in an accident here at 6:50 p. m. yesterday which sent a Jeromesville farmer to Samaritan hospital in Ashland with leg injuries.

According to the deputy George Stumbaugh, 50, Jeromesville, R. D. 1, was struck as he stepped in front of a car driven by Norman W. McNeely, 47, of Bowman street, Mansfield. The pedestrian suffered a fractured left leg and lacerated right leg.

AQUARIUM GROWS—

A live alligator and turtle are providing the basis for some interested discussion on biology in the fifth grade at Newman school. The alligator is being kept in a big enameled pan and the turtle in an aquarium. Information from Miss Muriel Aberle at Senior high school disclosed the right kinds of food for each. Hamburg is being fed the alligator, but the children have to put it in the alligator's mouth then hold his head under water before he'll eat. Mrs. Lelia Schambera is teacher of the fifth grade.

Mrs. A. Heffelfinger Dies at Lakeside

LOUDONVILLE — Mrs. Anna Heffelfinger, 86, wife of George Heffelfinger, died this morning at the home of her son, Clarence E. at Lakeville, R. D. Mrs. Heffelfinger had been ill for the past month.

Surviving, besides the husband and son, is one daughter, Mrs. Emil Butler, also of Lakeville, R. D.

Services will be held at the T. B. Gilbert funeral home Monday at 2 p. m. in charge of Rev. Lester Dresch, pastor of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church here. Burial will be in the Loudonville cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after Saturday noon.

Infant Succumbs, Buried at Lucas

LUCAS—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stotts, local residents, died at birth in Mansfield General hospital. Besides her parents she was survived by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sprang, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stotts, all of Lucas, and the maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sprang, of Perrysville.

Graveside services were to be held at 4:30 p. m. today in Greenlawn cemetery in charge of the Byerly funeral home with Rev. George M. Schrack, pastor of the St. Johns Lutheran church, officiating.

Mifflin Ready To Build

Structure To Cost $72,000

A six-room cement block grade school will replace five one-room schoolhouses in Mifflin township east of Mansfield.

Decision on the type of building to be constructed was reached last night at a meeting of the board of education and township residents at Vetsville hall. Bids will be asked soon.

The new school will cost $72,000, provided in bond issues of $48,000 and $24,000 voted by the school district. The total amount represents the taxable limit of the township.

Boyd Robinson, county superintendent of schools, presided at the session last night. Charles J. Marr, New Philadelphia architect, outlined the types of construction available for the school. Warm air heating will be specified.

The new structure will be built on the site of the Center Hall brick school building on U. S. Route 30.

There is a possibility the old building may be utilized as a cafeteria under one bid proposal. The new building plans ignore a cafeteria since the six classrooms will be needed to handle the 200 children the school serves.

Due to rising building costs original plans for brick veneer were discarded. Two years ago the township approved a $48,000 bond issue but as skyrocketing costs nullified construction hopes, another bond issue for $24,000 was voted at the Nov. 2 election.

P-TA Backs Campaign

Members of the Brinkerhoff P-TA, meeting last night at the school, endorsed the campaign against objectionable comic books, being waged by P-TA council members and the city's Parent-Teacher associations. Martin Merschdorf, president, was in charge of the meeting.

They endorsed the establishment of a driving course for students at Senior high school. Membership in the Brinkerhoff group has reached 423, highest ever achieved at the school.

Plans were made for a covered-dish supper at Prospect park the early part of December, with Harold George, chairman and members of the athletic committee in charge, and the annual school party to be held at Johnny Appleseed school on Dec. 16.

During the program, a film on "Atom Bomb Tests At Bikini" was shown. Refreshments were served by Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Pollock and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Houston.

The next regular meeting has been scheduled for Dec. 9.

Legion Plans Hero's Rite

Miltary rites for Sgt. John B. Scanlon, who was killed in action Oct. 20, 1944, in Italy, will be in charge of the American Legion Monday at 1 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home.

Services will be conducted by Rev. John G. Gensel, chaplain of the Legion, with burial in the Mansfield cemetery.

Sgt. Scanlon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Scanlon, 235 Ruth avenue, was born in Perry county June 5, 1911. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Marjorie Leech and Mrs. Mildred Sams; one brother, Robert Scanlon and a niece, Nancy Scanlon, all of Mansfield.

Friends may call at the Wappner funeral home starting Saturday evening.

Y-Teeners Provide Holiday Dinners to Needy Families

Members of the Madison Y-teen group will present four Thanksgiving baskets to Friendly House next Wednesday. Friendly House will distribute the baskets to needy families.

The girls will purchase meat for the baskets and bring canned goods and other staples from home. The giving of Thanksgiving baskets is an annual project of the Madison group.

Final plans for presenting the baskets were made at the monthly meeting of the group at Madison high school Wednesday afternoon.

A Thanksgiving theme was used for the meeting and members of the group gave a play, "Company for Dinner."

Those who took part in the play were Bonnie Mottayaw, Connie Ciraulo, Doris Baumberger, Reva Stoffer, Muriel Beer, Gloria Baumberger, Joyce Elliott, Norma Bishop, Shirley Beer, Kay Jesson and Ann Dyson.

An accordion trio composed of Ruth Bailey, Loretta Tascute, and Ruth Ann Hagerman, took part in the program.

The meeting was conducted by Josephine Ciraulo.

Miss Evelyn Wiseman is adviser to the group.

Lincoln Made Immortal Speech Just 85 Years Ago Today

By H. D. CRAWFORD
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, which he delivered 85 years ago today, on Nov. 19, 1863, during dark and uncertain days of the Civil war, is one of the most famous speeches ever made and one of the most widely known and highly cherished documents in American annals.

Did you know, however, that Lincoln was an after-thought selection as a speaker to help dedicate the national cemetery at Gettysburg? And did you know that some persons had so little confidence in Loncoln's ability to speak on that solemn occasion that the program committee's letter of invitation specified that the president was to confine his contribution to "a few appropriate remarks"?

Gettysburg National Military Park today covers nearly 2,500 acres in southern Pennsylvania and is maintained by the National Park Service. It includes the areas where the greatest action took place in the summer of 1863 when Gen. George G. Meade's Army of the Potomac defeated Gen. Robert E. Lee's Confederates—a battle that turned the tide of the Civil war.

Today, 2,388 monuments, markers, and tablets tell in marble and bronze the story of the battle that has been called "the greatest contest of arms on American soil."

When President Lincoln journeyed from Washington on his special train 85 years ago, however, and then rode a big chestnut horse in a procession to participate in the dedication of the Soldiers' National cemetery, the scene was very different.

★

BATTLEFIELD sights were still shocking and sickening. Carcasses of cavalry horses still littered the area. Rains had washed away soil hastily spread over dead soldiers, and these bodies were in the process of reburial. The situation had become a health menace to the nearby town of Gettysburg.

Pennsylvania's Gov. A. G. Curtin had visited the battlefield shortly after the Confederate retreat and he realized that patriotic pride of the North would be damaged unless Gettysburg's dead were given proper burial and recognition.

Governors of other northern states whose men had died at Gettysburg agreed to share the expense of burial and landscaping. Edwin M. Stanton, Lincoln's secretary of war, responded to a call for coffins. Some of these were still on the grounds that November day when dedication ceremonies were held.

Edward Everett was the unanimous choice to give the dedication oration. He was a distinguished orator. He had been secretary of state in President Fillmore's cabinet, had served in the Senate, and as president of Harvard university. Everett in 1859 had made a substantial contribution toward the purchase and preservation of George Washington's home at Mount Vernon.

Dedication ceremonies at Gettysburg were postponed from Oct. 23 to Nov. 19 to give Everett more time to prepare his oration.

★

PRESIDENT LINCOLN was not even invited to take part in the ceremony until Nov. 2. Everett sent a copy of his oration to Lincoln in advance, evidently so the president would not cover any of the same ground.

Lincoln's slow train chugged out of Washington about noon on Nov. 18. The president and notables who rode with him reached Gettysburg at sundown. Serenaders tried to get Lincoln to make a speech that night, but he declined.

You probably have heard the story that Lincoln scratched off the Gettysburg Address on the back of an old envelope while on the train. Loncoln scholars now seem to be agreed that this is a myth. Lincoln wrote one draft of the speech, or most of it at least, before leaving Washington. He worked late in his room that night at Gettysburg.

About 11 p. m. Loncoln took sheets of notes to the house next door where Secretary of State William E. Seward was spending the night. Lincoln is believed to have written the draft of the speech which he used as his speech manuscript either late that night or early on the morning of Nov. 19, the day of the ceremony.

Drunken shouts, soap-box speakers, serenaders, and loud singing broke the usual quite of Gettysburg that night. Holmes and hotels were overflowing with persons arriving for the ceremonies at the cemetery. Estimates of crowds at the dedication have varied from 15,000 to 150,000.

Lincoln emerged from the house where he was a guest about 10 a. m. on the day of the dedication. He wore his famous high silk hat, white gloves, and black suit. The chestnut horse the president mounted was one of the largest that could be found for the occasion. Lincoln held a brief reception on horseback.

Everett's oration took up two hours. It was eloquent and suitable for the occasion. The Baltimore Glee club sang an ode, and there were other things on the program, such as a band concert.

In order to get good standing space, persons near the speakers' platform had arrived three hours before the ceremonies began. These had been standing or sitting about six hours by the time the program reached President Lincoln's part.

★

LINCOLN'S speech took a little more than two minutes, being interrupted a few times by applause. A photographer trying to get a picture of the president speaking could not get his old-fashioned camera into action before Lincoln sat down. His 10-sentence speech was over before some newsmen realized the importance of what he was saying.

"President Lincoln's address was delivered in a clear loud tone of voice," according to a New York reporter, "which could be distinctly heard at the extreme limits of the large audience.

"It was delivered (or rather read from a sheet of paper which the speaker held in his hand) in a very deliberate manner, with strong emphasis, and with a most business-like air."

Everett wrote Lincoln a note next day saying that he would be glad if he could flatter himself that he had come as close to presenting the central idea of the patriotic occasion at Gettysburg in two hours as Lincoln had in two minutes.

Lincoln's famous words are chiseled into marble in the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, but they are embedded ever more deeply in the minds of Americans.

THE ADDRESS—Artist's drawing of Lincoln as he made immortal address.

GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fiting and proper that we should do his.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecreate—we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Survey Firm Would Boost Ohio Payroll

$4,940,340 Raise Advised

COLUMBUS —(AP)— An overall salary increase of 7.8 per cent for 26,000 state employes and officials was recommended today to the Ohio Salary Study commission.

The public administration service of Chicago, which recently completed a survey of salaries paid by the state, proposed the increase.

If was based upon salaries effective July 1, 1948 and would amount to $4,940,340 a year, bringing the annual payroll to $68,100,340

The Salary Study commission, if it approves the recommendations, will present them to the new legislature which convenes Jan. 3.

Legislative approval is necessary for adoption.

Employes of the six state supported universities and colleges are not included in the survey.

It also reclassifies the employes into some 700 categories compared with the 1,600 categories now in effect.

Pending adoption of the classifications and salary increases, the report also recommends continuation of the present cost-of-living salary adjustments until July 1, 1949 when the new schedules would be placed in operation.

The recommendations, the survey states, were based upon studies of salaries paid by other states and for the same type of work in private industry.

Each classification provides for salary ranges in five steps. Each step represented an increase of about five per cent over the preceding one. No present salaries would be reduced.

The State Civil Service commission with approval of the director of finance would agree to increases over the schedule rates for employes working outside of Columbus where living costs are higher.

BIGGEST BOOST

Cleveland and Toledo were cited as examples where living costs are approximately 10 per cent higher than in the capital.

The largest recommended salary boosts were for elective state officials and executive department heads. The governor's salary, now $10,000 but which becomes $15,000 with the advent of the new executive in January, would be increased to $20,000 which would be equal to that paid the governors of Massachusetts and New Jersey, but $5,000 under the salary of the New York and California gorvernors.

The lieutenant governor's salary, now $3,000 but to be increased to $4,000 in January, would be boosted to $8,000, the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general, now $6,500 but increase to $8,500 in January, would be exstablished at $12,000.

Executive department heads also recommended for $12,000 salaries are directors of agriculture, finance, commerce, public works, education, health, highways, welfare, and industrial relations.

Others recommended for $12,000 salaries are liquor control, tax commissioner, members of the industrial commission, members of the utilities comission and administrator of the bureau of unemployment conpensation.

Eight thousand dollar salaries were recommended for the director of aviation, members of the state liquor board, board of review of the bureau of unemployment compensation, board of tax appeals, civil service commission and the pardon and parole commission.

No recommendation was made for members of the state legislature who now recieve $2,000. This will be increased to $2,600 in January.

Municipal Airport To Get Landing Tee, Taxi Strip Mats

A landing tee and landing mats will be installed at the Mansfield Municipal airport as safety measures, airport officials announced.

The tee will designate the landing direction for incoming planes while the landing mats will be placed on the taxi strip between Hangar 7 and the Trans World Airline office.

The improvements were mapped at a meeting of airport and military officials Tuesday.

Attending were A. Clayton Tschantz, airport manager, Capt. W. O. Ash and Maj. D. C. McGee, of the 164th Fighter Squadron, Capt. K. R. Williams of the 321st Air Reserve; Thomas A. Anszel, station manager of TWA, Earl Farrison, city service-safety director, and Virgil Morgan, chief communicator of CAA.

SEE FOOTBALL GAME

H. E. Rupp, Carl Rupp, Raymond Kauf, and William Templeton flew to Cleveland Sunday to see the Browns football game.

Paul I. Berno flew on his commercial cross-country to Owensboro, Ky.

George E. Hickman, president of the Hickman Power and Implement Company, Inc., made a business trip last week to contact dealers and establish new dealers for his company in Springfield and Jerseyville, Ill., South Bend, Ind., and Lansing, Mich.

Dick Adams, H. Finnerty, and two other employes of the Mahoney Contracting Company rented a plane from Richland Aviation, Inc., and flew to Mt. Pleasant, Mich., to visit their homes.

A. D. Schreck and Lloyd Amato flew to Port Clinton, to demonstrate their plane to the Port Clinton Marine company.

Another New Stamp Out Monday

3-Center Honors Turners Society

Another three-cent commemorative stamp will go on sale Monday at the Mansfield post office. Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford announced today.

The stamp commemorates the centennial of the Turners society. It is being issued through the Cincinnati post office.

The Mansfield post office has received 20,000 of the stamps which are printed in red and issued in sheets of 50 subjects.

At the top of the stamp is the inscription, "U. S. Postage," and below the inscription a torch throwing light on the history of the American Turners. To the left and right of the torch are a pair of hanging rings used for physical training. Within the rings are the dates, "1848" and "1948."

Below the rings appear the words, "One Hundredth Anniversary" and below this in a circle the American Turners national emblem reading "American Turners Sound Mind Sound Body" with a Greek model of and athlete about to throw a discus. To the left and right in the lower part of the stamp are ribbons with the words, "A Century of Health."

Collectors desiring stamps of selected quality for philatelic use should write to the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., on and after Monday.

20 Area-Built Buses Bought By Texas Firm

LOUDONVILLE — The Texas Electric company of Dallas is shelving its interurban cars before Jan. 1, and are replacing them with 20 coaches from the Flxible company, which will be leaving Loudonville this week for Dallas.

The Texans will operate these buses south of Dallas to Waco and north to Dennison

Texas Electric was one of the first interurban lines in the country and will be one of the last to change from cars to coaches.

Chest Clinic X-rays Taken In Ashland

ASHLAND — X-ray reports from examination of Ashland county teachers, food handlers and nurses at the chest clinic held by the county board of health this week indicate only a few possible TB cases among those examined.

Dr. O. A. Beatty, Mansfield chest specialist who read the X-rays, reported the 42 county teachers checked are all negative. There were five re-checks ordered from among the 75 Ashland teachers examined and two re-checks for the 14 nurses examined, according to the report.
